McClellan named Fire Chief

By Jon Bishop
Town Crier Correspondent
Jon@YourTownCrier.com

WILMINGTON—Town Manager Jeff Hull announced at Monday's Board of Selectmen meeting that Deputy Chief Richard McClellan will succeed Ed Bradbury as Fire Chief. He'll start on June 2.

According to a letter submitted by Hull, McClellan has been a member of the Wilmington Fire Department for over 31 years. He was promoted to Lieutenant in 2008 and "assisted in coordinating the department's management of over $2.5 million of fire apparatus."

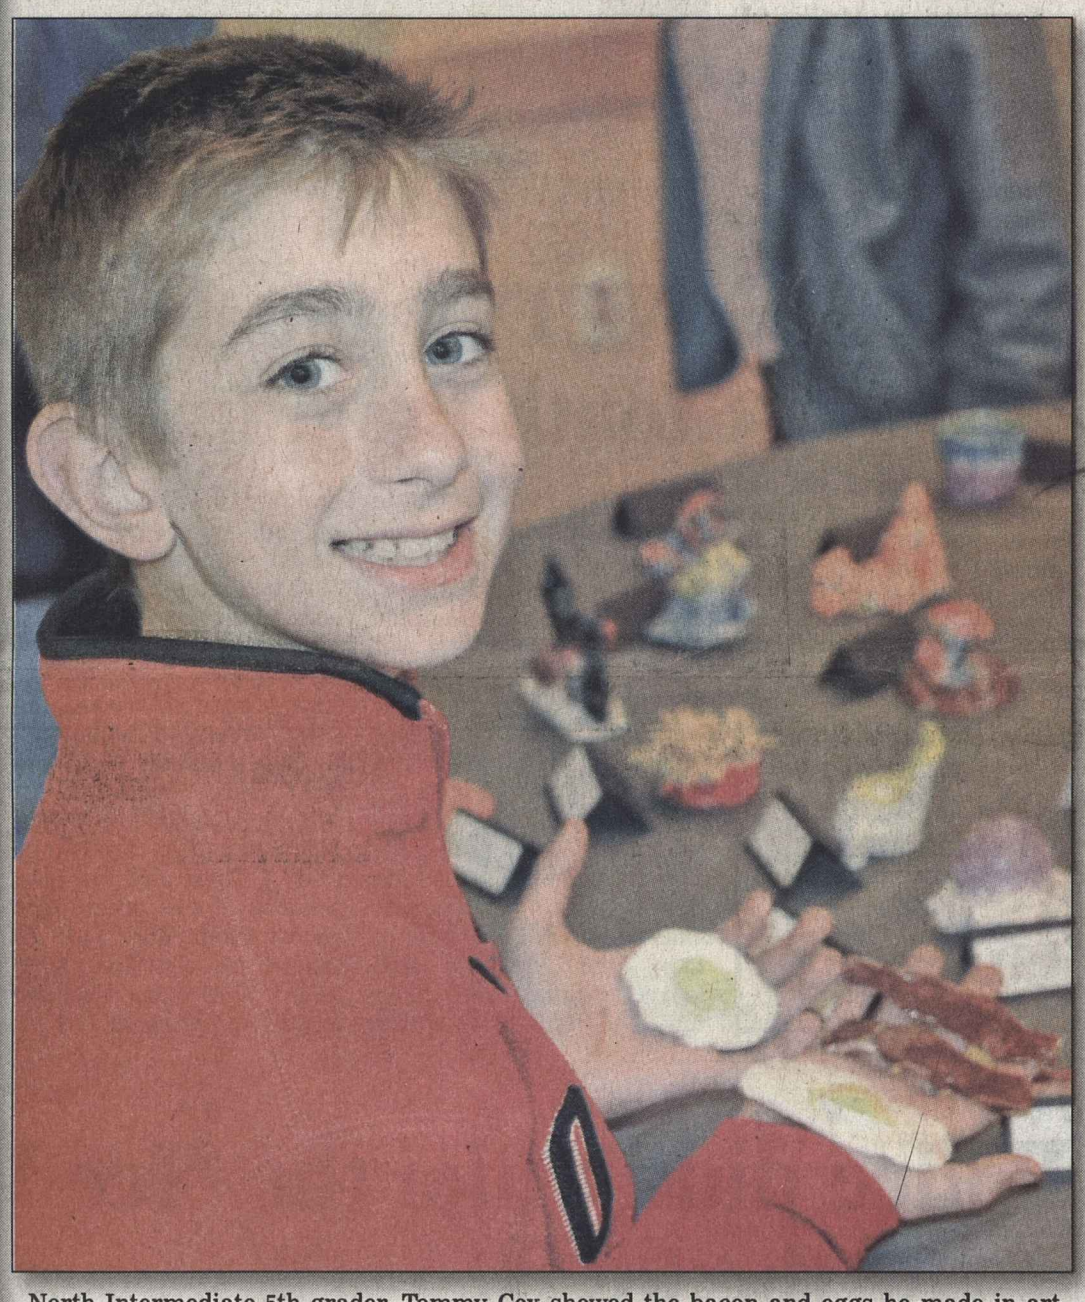

In September, 2012, he became Deputy Chief. Since then, he has "focused on enhancing emergency medical services provided by the town" and "has promoted the utilization of technology and data to evaluate the department's emergency medical response." He has "assisted in the development of the town's Nasal Narcan pilot program, which is now a statewide model."

Once he becomes Chief, "McClellan will be responsible for a relatively young department. He will ensure our firefighters are able to provide excellent medical, fire prevention, and fire suppression services in the most effective and safest possible manner."

Hull will promote Lieutenant Gary Donovan to Deputy Chief.

"Lieutenant Donovan's commitment to serving the resi-

The Department of Public Buildings gears up for summer

By Jon Bishop
Town Crier Correspondent
Jon@YourTownCrier.com

WILMINGTON—Summer is fast approaching, which means George Hooper and his staff are about to get busy maintaining and updating facilities throughout town.

Hooper, the Superintendent of Public Buildings, said his department will be cleaning the schools, something they do every summer. They have about ten weeks to do it.

"We do a lot of routine maintenance over the summertime," he said. "It gives us an opportunity to get into these classrooms and do some cleaning."

This includes boiler work, fire alarm testing, and heating equipment servicing.

"This year, we're doing an oil to gas conversion over at the North Intermediate School," he said. The boilers are original to the building, he said.

They're going to be doing a window replacement project, too. It'll be similar to the one done at the Shawsheen School, which revitalized the façade of the building and greatly increased energy efficiency.

In addition, they'll do the roofing project that Town Meeting approved in Article 15—the replacement of 9,170 square feet of roof.

The North was built in 1962, and it is 54,569 square feet.

The Department also cares for other town buildings.

"We'll be doing some painting of the senior center, the tavern, and the arts center," he said.

They're going to replace the energy management system at the Public Safety Building, migrating it to a web-based system.

Hooper added that he'd ultimately like to upgrade all the heating systems, as gas availability is limited to certain locations.

"That's off in the future," he said.

Board: No dogs, grills at Silver Lake

WILMINGTON—Memo to Silver Lake beachgoers: don't park along Grove Avenue, and don't bring your dog.

The Board of Selectmen on Monday approved rule changes to the Silver Lake Beach, stemming from the high level of attendance last year.

Patrons parked along Grove Street and Cottage Street, causing problems with residents, Town Manager Jeff Hull said.

"Homeowners were having difficulty accessing their property," he said.

He also said there was loud music, smoking, drinking—"activities not conducive to a family environment."

Trash at times overflowed, he added. And dogs have been disruptive. People would also grill on public areas.

"We're looking to try to address these issues," Hull said.

Betrayal: employee charged with larceny

By Jayne W. Miller

Jayne@YourTownCrier.com

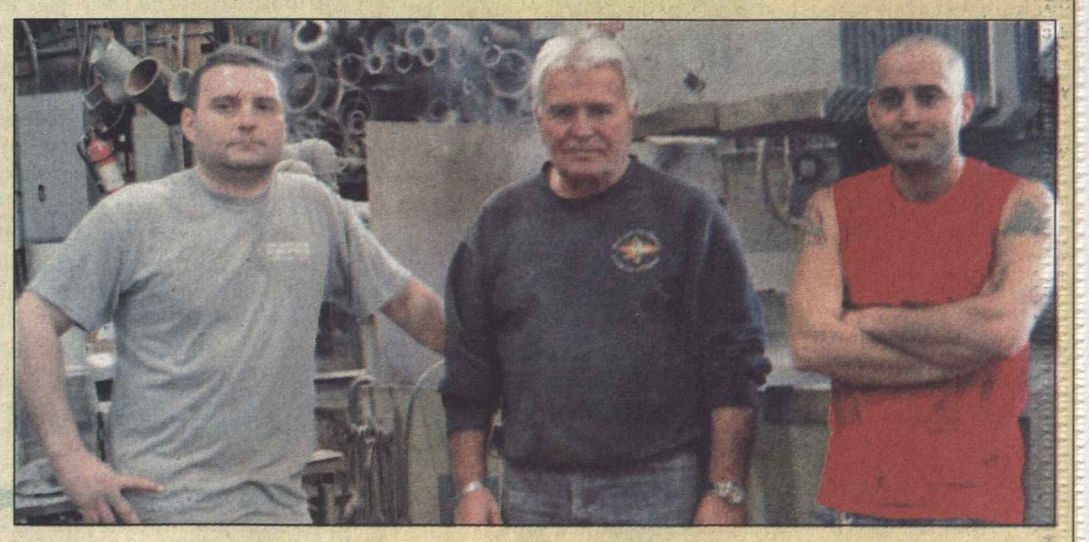

WILMINGTON - Haverhill woman, Debby Paolino, has been brought up on larceny charges by Wilmington Police for allegedly stealing over $74,000 from Wilmington-based Atlantic Steel Fabricators. She is due in Woburn District Court for an arraignment on May 21.

According to police records, Paolino allegedly cashed twenty-seven checks from March 14, 2012 to March 28, 2014, for a total amount of $74,890.52. All the checks were signed by the owner.

Hired in January 2011, Paolino began working in this office of this busy machine shop on Andover Street. Her duties were typical officer manager items: answer the phones, pay the bills, and keep things organized and running smoothly. By all accounts, she was good at it and gained the trust of her employers Joseph Ciccariello, 73, and his sons, Marc, 37, and Derek, 28.

Atlantic Steel Fabricators is a family-owned prototype job shop.

Local Heroes Club helps soldiers

By Jon Bishop
Town Crier Correspondent
Jon@YourTownCrier.com

WILMINGTON—The Local Heroes Club at Wilmington High School wants to make sure soldiers know that people are still thinking about them.

"We support troops overseas, veterans," said Dishan Bagayao, a sophomore. "We like to show our support through fundraising."

They also send cards, teddy-grams, gratitude scrolls. According to Dawn Martel, a biology teacher and their advisor, the scrolls are eight to ten feet long, and they contain "messages of support."

Martel said that the graphic design club has helped them create cards. They've also received donations. She said they sent teddy-grams to the soldiers on Valentine's Day. In addition, they've sold bracelets and t-shirts.

The group will send Memorial Day flags, which will be wrapped in yellow ribbons, to wounded veterans.

Martel said the purpose of the club is to "help our students understand how important it is to support our soldiers." They also want to keep sending supportive messages to troops.

They participate in the Dear Soldier program twice per year. The Town of Wilmington, as readers of the Crier know, is active in the program, having produced over 1,000 letters.

The club, Martel said, maintains the Wilmington High School Veterans Display, which is located in the main foyer.

"The kids update it," she said.

"[They] work really hard," she added.

Wilmington has "kind of laid the foundation," Martel said. Other schools across the state—and possibly the nation—will follow their lead.

The students have found participation in the club meaningful.

"It's really nice to see all the messages [other students produce]," said Baygayo.

"I like how we're giving back," added Victoria Le, also a sophomore.

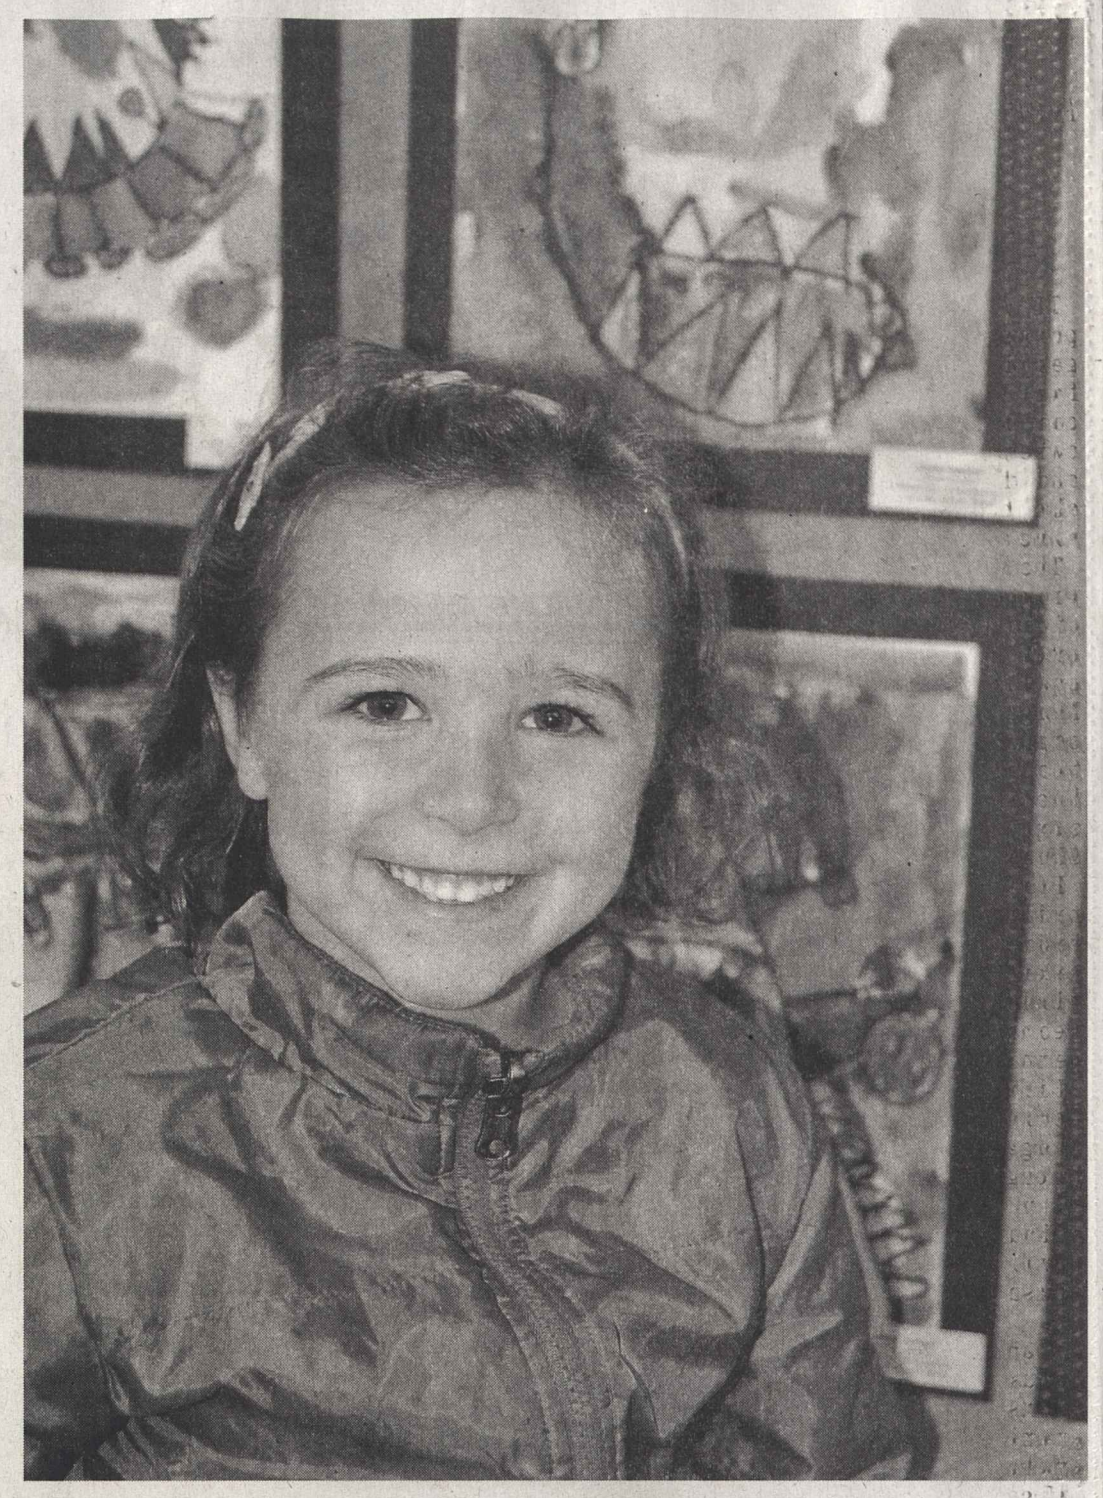

Andrew Hanlon, another sophomore, said he liked how Wilmington is "one of the only schools that [writes letters]."

And Moesha Beray, yet another sophomore, said that the club "reminds us why we're here." It shows them that they need to be thankful.

Martel said that they're going to take advantage of the new school, once it's finished. They'll certainly use its technology for advertising, she said.

"It's been absolutely wonderful to have a club like this," Martel said. "[Soldiers] know that people do care about them. That shouldn't go unnoticed."

The Local Heroes club at Wilmington High School started four years ago. It has about fifty members.

Cayley Israelson, a Kindergarten student at the Wildwood School, had her painting of a "letter monster" on display at the Wilmington Art Show on Friday evening.

Smoke prompts school evacuation

By Jon Bishop
Town Crier Correspondent
Jon@YourTownCrier.com

WILMINGTON—Firefighters investigated a report of smoke at the North Intermediate early Monday morning. Luckily, crews did not find any flames. A Twitter message from Wilmington Police went out at 7:45 am.

"It was just an overheated motor," said Deputy Fire Chief Richard McClellan. Scanner reports indicated smoke backed up into the front office and principal's office.

According to McClellan, responding crews "checked it out, disconnected the motor, and everything was all set."

"It did not disrupt school whatsoever," he added.

Superintendent Joanne Benton said that students were evacuated.

"All students in the before-school CARES Program and staff were evacuated," she wrote via e-mail to the Town Crier. "Bus students and students that were car riders were dropped off and stayed on the tennis court supervised by teachers as advised by the Wilmington Fire Department."

Benton said students re-entered the building before 8 a.m.

WCTV Launches Summer Youth Programs 2014

WILMINGTON - WCTV is pleased to announce the start of our 2014 Summer Youth Programs! This year, Youth Outreach Coordinator Kaileigh Bernardo and Youth Outreach Assistant Savannah Hubbard will teach kids and teens across Wilmington how to make fun and entertaining videos!

The summer begins with a program for 9-11 year olds. This program will teach kids how to make TV commercials. From 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. students will learn, socialize and have fun! The first session of this program has already filled up, but interested participants are welcome to the July 28th-August 1st session, also for ages 9-11. The cost for this program is $50, $40 for members.

Youth ages 12-14 will learn more advanced techniques through creating their own short films. These students will write, shoot, and edit their own short film in one week. There are also two sessions of this program to choose from, July 14-18 or August 4-8, both from 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. The cost for this program is $50 per week-long session, $40 for members.

All programs will be held at Wilmington Community Television, 10 Waltham Street, Wilmington, MA from Monday - Friday. Spaces are limited, so make sure to sign up early! To register, contact Kaileigh Bernardo at WCTV by calling (978) 657-4066, emailing kbernardo@wctv.org, or stopping by WCTV (10 Waltham Street). We're looking forward to seeing all the WCTV youth and the videos they produce!

MILAGE RATES ARE DOWN

If you use your car for business, for medical travel, moving, or for charitable purposes, you can deduct the cost from your taxes. The easiest way is to use the mileage rate set by the Internal Revenue Service, rather than keep receipts to substantiate costs such as gasoline and oil.

For 2014, the mileage rate for business travel is 56 cents a mile (down slightly from last year; so is the price of gas). A worker who is reimbursed under an "accountable" plan won't be taxed on the reimbursement but can't deduct the expense. The rate for medical or moving reasons is 23.5 cents a mile. The rate for charitable purposes remains 14 cents. That low rate is fixed by Congress and the IRS cannot change it. In addition, you can deduct tolls and parking.

It's important to keep good records of where you go and for what purpose. Notes on a calendar or datebook can be adequate documentation.

What's deductible, what's not? We've got the answer to your tax questions at

Police didn't like the "Ice Wagon" — or the jokes

By Larz F. Neilson
Editor Emeritus

The truth be told, it never really delivered any ice. But for 13 unlucky years, the town of Wilmington owned a 1952 Chevy panel truck known as the "Ice Wagon."

The truck was purchased for $450, plus trade-in, for the Wilmington Police Department. It served as the town's police cruiser, its only cruiser. Maybe the town manager thought the cops needed a paddy wagon, not that Wilmington had any bars. The town, once notorious for its bars, "went dry" in 1947.

The panel truck, on the same chassis as a pickup truck, was well-suited for painters or plumbers, but not police work.

It had a closed body with two doors on the back. The town painted POL on the left door and ICE on the right. This led Bob Moran to dub it the "ice wagon." Of course, it was hardly ever seen with the doors opened that way. But it made a good joke, anyway.

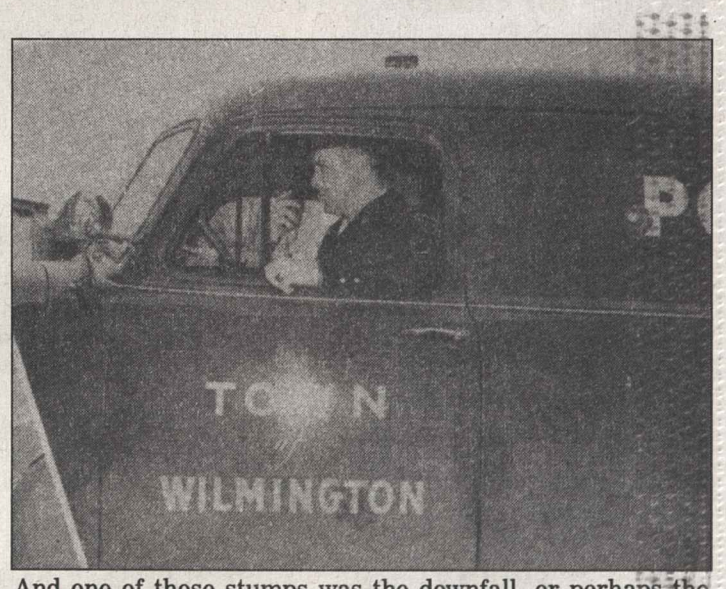

Which is not to say that the cops liked it. They hated the truck, and the hated the jokes. Even the drunks they picked up would make remarks about the name.

The cartoon in the old Boston Herald didn't help. Cartoonist George Dahl was famous for his sketches of proper Bostonians and ratty squirrels on Boston Common. But one day in 1952, readers of the Herald were chuckling about Wilmington's ice wagon, shown with the cops hiding behind a billboard, waiting for speeders.

For one year, one very long year, it was Wilmington's police cruiser. And it was not at all suited to catching speeders.

Officers Shepard and Markey observed a car speeding north on Main Street late one evening. They were headed south, near the Woburn line. By they time they got the truck turned around, the car had taken a right turn on Eames Street and gone over the railroad bridge. The speeder then took a sharp right onto Woburn Street, and headed into Woburn, with the cops following somewhere in the dust. With a six-cylinder engine, the truck had a top speed of about 70 m.p.h.

Just beyond the town line was a rickety old bridge, known in Wilmington as the Woburn Street bridge. In Woburn, it was called the New Boston Street bridge. On the other side of the bridge the speeder went down a dirt road leading into an area where trees had been cut, leaving lots of stumps.

And one of those stumps was the downfall, or perhaps the undoing of the Wilmington paddy wagon.

Officers Shepard and Markey did not enjoy their merry-go-round ride as the truck spun around on the stump.

A wrecker was called, but other stumps surrounding the ice wagon blocked access. Several bystanders tried to lift the truck off the stump, but it was too heavy.

Someone suggested that they wait until the ice melted, whereupon the truck would be lighter. The cops didn't think that was at all funny.

Finally the tow truck managed to maneuver to a point where it could winch the panel truck off the stump. With their truck on a hook, the two officers sheepishly returned to the station, which was in the lower end of the Church Street Hardware building.

The following spring, the town bought a new cruiser, a 1953 Plymouth station wagon. There was never another ice wagon.

The Fire Department took over the panel truck and converted it to a rescue truck. The firemen were proud of their work, and the truck served well in its new role.

In 1961, the Highway Department took the truck, which then had a value of $100. The truck became known as "Denault's Darling" usually driven by Roscoe Denault.

It was 50 years ago this month that the town took the truck out of service. The Ice Wagon was retired to Camp 40 Acres, where presumably, it melted.

Gas pipeline proposal raises questions, ire

Northeast Expansion Project in early phase

By Jayne W. Miller
News Editor
Jayne@YourTownCrier.com

TEWKSBURY/WILMINGTON – A proposed high-pressure transmission gas pipeline in the Merrimack Valley, from Dracut to Lynnfield, has raised concern among Tewksbury property owners about safety, property values, and the environment. Wilmington is also being surveyed as a potential route as part of this project.

The proposed Northeast Expansion Project aims to bring higher volumes of natural gas to the Northeast to meet growing demand, says the pipeline developer Kinder Morgan. The current line would originate in Wright, NY and run to a facility in Dracut. Additional laterals and loop lines would supply gas to New Hampshire, Maine, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Property owners like Cardigan Road resident Joan Unger and Kendall Road resident Crystal Panagiotopoulos received letters from Tennessee Gas Pipeline, a Kinder Morgan company, February 28 and April 23, requesting permission to survey their properties.

Richard Wheatley, Director of Corporate Communications for Kinder Morgan, explains that his firm, through Tennessee Gas Pipeline (TGP) "is in the early stages of contacting officials and landowners in various towns and communities in Massachusetts and New York concerning TGP's planned Northeast Expansion Project (NEEP) in order to discuss the proposed project and in its efforts in seeking survey permission to examine potential routes for the pipeline."

Unger, fresh off last summer's proposed casino rollercoaster in Tewksbury, told the Town Crier she has a host of concerns about a gas pipeline running through her backyard.

"My concern, first of all, I think it is wrong. I would like to know how it will benefit the town, the state, the nation," said Unger, who, as a professional realtor, has concerns about property values declining. In order to the maintain the corridor for a pipeline the company will have to cut down trees and spray herbicides, raising her concerns about wildlife and storm water run off.

For Crystal Panagiotopoulos the tone of the letter seemed "harsh and not friendly at all."

"[The letter] seemed to indicate that if I didn't give them permission to survey my land, then they would petition (the state) to do it," said Panagiotopoulos. "My initial feeling is that this is my property and I'm not just going to let you come onto my land and do what you want."

"We are not interested in letting them survey our land. It scares me. I have a baby, I have a dog. I worry about the resale value. The whole thing doesn't sit well with me," added Panagiotopoulos.

Unger is similarly outraged by TGP's posture.

"What right does a private business have to infringe on private property. For the good of who? For making money? I don't think they could convince me that it's a good thing," she said.

In Wilmington, Town Manager Jeff Hull is aware of the project and the request to "access various parcels that appear to abut land owned by the New England Power Company and adjacent to the major power lines that cross northern Wilmington."

> Hull added that he intends to monitor the developments of this pipeline project very closely and "ensure Wilmington is not negatively impacted by this potential project."

Hull told the Crier that he reviewed the information with both Public Works Director Michael Woods and Planning Director Carole Hamilton, looking to understand the overall project and the direct impacts of this specific request.

"Carole spoke with representatives of Tennessee Gas about their intentions for this phase of evaluation, their expectations for the project, and their goals. Their representative explained that this is still in the pre-feasibility stage, and that the surveys being pursued throughout the state are part of an information gathering effort," said Hull, which is consistent with statements made by TGP.

"The land they are looking at in north Wilmington includes conservation land and wetlands which will in and of themselves pose hurdles for underground infrastructure development," said Hull. "It is certainly possible this survey will result in Wilmington being ruled out as a route. In light of very preliminary state of this review, I am comfortable providing them with access to conduct their surveys in order to explore these challenges directly."

Hull added that he intends to monitor the developments of this pipeline project very closely and "ensure Wilmington is not negatively impacted by this potential project."

Right now, the exact size of the line has yet to be determined, and it would be based (both diameter and capacity) on the needs of potential customers.

"We are in the process of negotiating definitive agreements with potential customers," says Wheatley.

As to how the pipeline routes are chosen, Wheatley said, "Possible routes are extensively studied before a preferred route is chosen and ultimately submitted in an application for FERC [Federal Energy Regulatory Commission] environmental review. Proposed routing is based on numerous factors that include, among others, historical/cultural and environmental issues, sensitive habitat and archaeological issues. The surveys will help us determine possible routes. The FERC will review and approve a final route as part of a project certificate application."

According to Wheatley, the NEEP, as currently configured, would result in the construction of approximately 250 miles of new pipeline, additional meter stations and modifications to existing facilities. Of the total, about 179 miles would be classified as mainline pipeline and the remainder would be smaller diameter loop pipelines. Loop pipeline is pipeline that is installed adjacent to and connects with existing pipeline.

To minimize disturbance, TGP anticipates it will be able to locate a significant portion of new pipeline segments within existing pipeline and electric utility corridors, which may be why only direct property owners are even aware of the proposal. Neighbors often have no idea about the project.

TGP says that pending receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals from the FERC, the proposed project is anticipated to be placed in service by November 1, 2018.

According to Kinder Morgan, the pipeline's capacity can be sized from approximately 600 million cubic feet per day up to approximately 2.2 billion cubic feet per day. Depending on a final design/scope of such a project, the pipeline could cost approximately $2-3 billion to build. Final costs would be determined after all pipeline facilities have been scoped based on agreements with our customers and where the natural gas would be delivered, ultimately.

The preliminary design/scope would not be finalized until after definitive capacity agreements have been executed.

A tentative date for a public meeting with Tennessee Gas is slated for June 11 at 7pm at the Tewksbury Public Library.

OPINION

Cemetery Rules

This week I received several anonymous requests to look into a few things at Wildwood Cemetery. While no one raised concerns about anyone within the town's employ, two legitimate matters were raised. Flip over to the Two Cents column on page 6. Go ahead, I'll wait.

See what I mean?

The first matter, about folks walking their dogs in the cemetery, is flat out against the rules. Period.

Jamie Magaldi, Operations Manager for the Department of Public Works, said that dogs are not allowed in the cemetery. However, while the cemetery closes at dusk daily, the cemetery foreman and crews are on-site Monday to Friday from 6:30PM - 3PM.

Magaldi stated that when the foreman encounters dog owners walking on the property, he just informs people of the rule and has found that, typically, people are willing to comply. While officials have never had to contact police, residents that see dog walkers are encouraged to report instances to the DPW.

"If it becomes a problem, then we may ask the police department to look at it, said Magaldi.

The issue points, in part, to the need for a dog park in town - a place kept clean by owners but where they can enjoy a nice walk off the streets. Perhaps a dog park will be included in the final design for the Yentile or another property.

As for the other major matter, the damage to the plants on one grave, seemingly targeting one family, I certainly hope the culprit is an animal and not individuals.

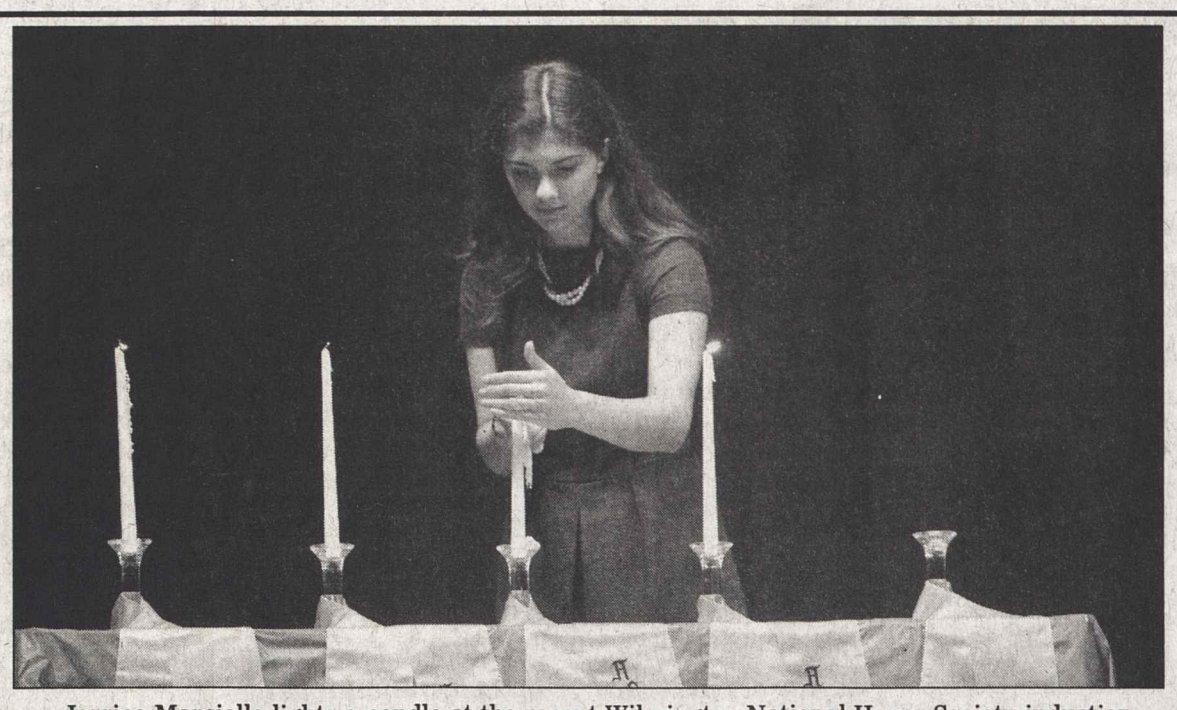

Magaldi states while the cemetery does close at dusk, it is not gated. From time to time police will "move people along" that visit the cemetery during off hours. Magaldi encourages people to report any suspicion of theft to the DPW, and added that crews have never witnessed any vandalism during the day.

Another possible culprit? Animals. Deer, rabbits, and groundhogs run plentiful through Wildwood cemetery. Magaldi stated, "Certainly, a big enough deer can pick up a pot and move it."

Ultimately, a cemetery is not a recreational place. It is not a dog park. It is not a place for vandalism. A cemetery is a holy, solemn, and beautiful space; let's keep it that way.

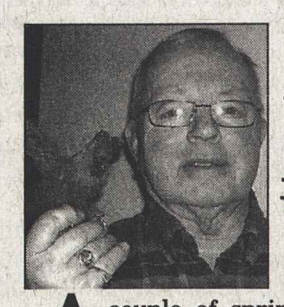

For more information on the cemetery rules and regulations, check out the cemetery page on the DPW section of the Town of Wilmington website:

Bird and Blooms

by Gerry Duggan

What's in your backyard this spring?

A couple of spring bird reports have inspired me to get on the perch. Rick from Tewksbury said Saturday that the first hummingbird of the season was at his hummingbird feeder. My hummingbird feeder has been out for a little over a week.

I've had several visits by a downy woodpecker, and today, Mother's Day, the first hummingbird paid several visits.

At the suet baskets regular visitors are the hairy and red-bellied woodpeckers. The blue jays, bronzed grackles and red-winged blackbirds that I saw on March 3rd join the yellow-shafted common flicker.

Some of the same birds are working on my seed feeders. I have two thistle feeders on the property that are visited on a regular basis by chickadees, tufted titmice, and gold finches, now changing to their brilliant yellow plumage.

The feeders currently contain sunflower meaties and cardinal mix, which contains sunflower in the shell, meaties, safflower and white millet. Under those feeders I have observed cardinals, white throated sparrow, white capped sparrow, mourning doves, and, I'm almost positive, a chipping sparrow. It could be another species of sparrow, but they flit around so quickly it makes it hard to identify.

The last of the slate juncos finally departed to more northern climes; I saw the last couple about two weeks ago.

I had robins all winter and now they are here in droves, already building nests. I have also seen the brown-headed cowbird.

All my gold fish survived the nasty winter, coming out and about past couple of weeks until the great blue heron paid a couple of visits. I don't know if the heron got any but I haven't seen a fish since first heron visit. I've since covered the pond with wire.

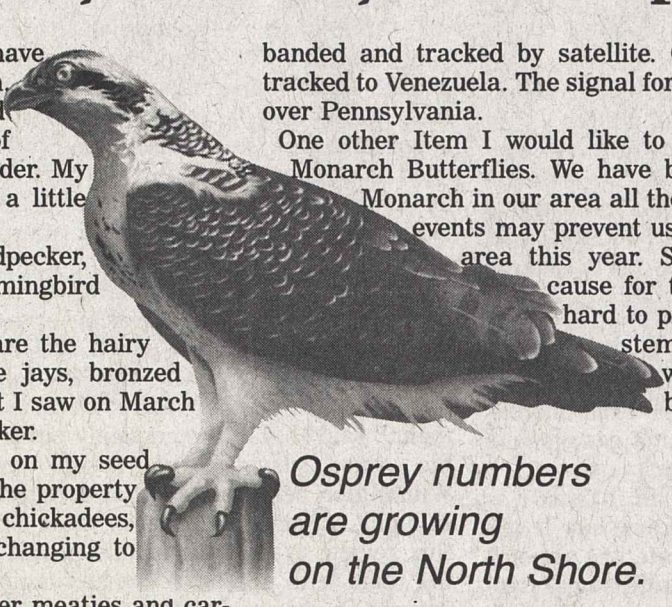

On Sunday, May 4 I saw the first female Baltimore oriole feeding on the blossoms of the flowering quince and saw a male Baltimore oriole at Oak Grove cemetery in Medford on May 9.

Many house finches are around now, along with Carolina wrens and the English sparrows. I also saw a turkey vulture about a month ago and several hawks, including a red tailed and others that didn't sit around to be identified.

Tuesday May 6 two gray catbirds appeared at the suet feeder.

Recently I read an article in the Globe about ospreys. The ospreys are doing quite well on Boston's North Shore, according to the Essex County Greenbelt. Twenty-Six pairs of ospreys were spotted nesting in Essex County in 2013, the most since Greenbelt began building and repairing nesting platforms about seven years ago.

A report on the Status of Osprey Breeding Activity in Essex County Massachusetts is posted on the Greenbelt website at ecga.org. Last year two fledgling ospreys were banded and tracked by satellite. One of those birds was tracked to Venezuela. The signal for the second bird was lost over Pennsylvania.

Osprey numbers are growing on the North Shore.

One other Item I would like to mention is the lack of Monarch Butterflies. We have been used to seeing the Monarch in our area all the time. A combination of events may prevent us from seeing any in our area this year. Scientists say the exact cause for the monarchs decline is hard to pin down, but it probably stems from unfriendly weather patterns caused by climate change, as well as overdevelopment of the monarch's habitat, including the destruction of milk weed, the only plant on which females lay their eggs. Scientists don't think these butterflies will become extinct but acknowledge the migratory patterns that bring them to the Northeast have been disrupted Sightings would be appreciated at daisdaph@verizon.net, on any bird related things. Several more southern visitors will be arriving soon.

The Monarch butterfly is losing ground in the Northeast with loss of habitat and changes in weather patterns affecting migration.

West Point Society recognizes iPods

Dear Editor,

On Saturday, March 29th, the West Point Society held their annual Founders Day banquet at the Holiday Inn in Boxborough, Ma. with guest speaker Brigadier General Richard Clarke, Commandant of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. iPods For Wounded Veterans is honored to have been selected as their charity of the year for 2014 and was invited to attend the banquet.

More than 100 businesses, organizations and individuals donated gifts and certificates to a silent auction to raise funds for the WPSNE scholarship fund and for iFWV. We cannot express strongly enough our sincere appreciation to all who made donations to raise funds for both organizations. As you know, it takes a lot of hard work by individuals who have a passion to help our injured service men and women in any way possible. We thank president Dale Kurtz and vice president Ed Collazzo, Master of Ceremonies, for their vision and extraordinary effort in making this event so successful. We also thank Country & Western singer Tara Morgan from Gardner, Ma. for doing a live performance of the National Anthem during the opening ceremonies for the first time in banquet history.

In closing, we look forward to working with the WPSNE in additional fund-raising events during 2014. Our partnership will be a tremendous benefit to all of our injured veterans.

Sincerely,
Paul Cardello, Chairman

Container Gardens event held at Tewksbury Library

The Tewksbury Beautification Committee is pleased to present the third in its series of programs aimed at improving landscapes in our community. On Saturday, May 17 at 11:00 AM at the Tewksbury Public Library, join us for Container Gardens by Donna Lane.

Lane will discuss dressing up the entrance to your home or business with a colorful and creative container garden. Lane's presentation includes a lecture and hands-on demonstration.

Educating and inspiring owners to beautify their homes and their communities has long been a personal mission of hers.

Lane is a 10-year veteran of Norwood's Flower Committee which seeks to promote and provide a more beautiful image for the town. Sponsored by the Tewksbury Beautification Committee and funded by the Tewksbury Cultural Council, this program is free to the public and all are invited to attend.

Children wearing bicycle helmets to be rewarded by Police Department

The Tewksbury Police Department is on the lookout! Officers are looking to reward young people "caught" wearing their bike helmets with gift certificates.

These certificates can be redeemed at the local McDonald's, The Pushcart, or a Lowell Spinner's game.

The Department is excited to offer this program again to raise awareness and hopefully increase helmet use in Town.

Massachusetts law requires children 16 years of age or younger, who operate a bicycle, or who ride as a passenger on a bicycle, on a public way or bike path, to wear a properly fitted and fastened helmet.

A bicycle helmet can reduce the risk of serious head and brain injury by as much as 90 percent.

Unfortunately, 89 percent of people killed in bicycle crashes with motor vehicles were not wearing a helmet.

For more information on the bicycle helmet law and bicycle safety tips, go to www.mass.gov/highwaysafety . If a child does not have a helmet, the Police Department can provide one.

The Tewksbury Police Department would like to thank our local business partners for supporting its efforts to keep the children of Tewksbury safe.

For more information or to get involved, please contact Officer Jennie Welch (978)851-7373, EXT 230.

Tierney courts small businesses and students in latest legislative efforts

Tisei campaign denounces both Tierney's bills and records

By Jayne W. Miller
News Editor

WASHINGTON – Congressman John F. Tierney announced the introduction of the Increasing Small Business Lending Act, aimed at reinvigorating a lapsed tenet of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009. Tierney's latest legislative attempt, however, was met with derision from the Tisei campaign.

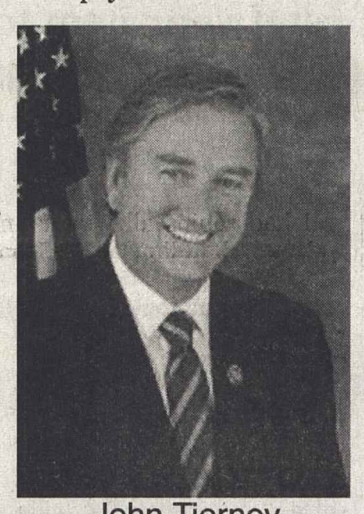

Tierney, who faces three primary challengers this year, as well as Republican Richard Tisei, said that the bill would eliminate certain Small Business Administration (SBA) loan fees and increase loan guarantees to small businesses that expired in May 2011.

According to a press statement, decreased loan fees and increased loan guarantees from 2009-2011 allowed 197 small businesses in the Sixth District access to $35 million, "which was the highest amount of any Congressional District in Massachusetts."

"These programs were widely recognized as an engine for growth and their usefulness is still needed. More than 70,000 small businesses directly benefitted from these commonsense reforms that were instituted to assure that small businesses did not suffer undue harm during the economic recovery. While we have made great strides as a nation since the economic downturn, this legislation will further strengthen small businesses' status as the backbone of our economy by providing them with an outlet to continue to expand and create jobs," said Congressman John Tierney.

The Tisei campaign was not impressed.

"John Tierney's version of a fresh idea is to re-introduce nearly the exact same bill from 2012, which is in turn is a reintroduction of a policy from 2010," said Ryan Gough, Tisei Campaign Manager. "Tierney is not serious about helping small businesses, as evidenced by his 0% rating from the National Federation of Independent Business and the National Retail Federation. Small businesses need a representative who pays attention to their needs more than once per election cycle."

Last week Tierney joined other legislators to introduce the Bank on Students Emergency Refinancing Act that would allow undergraduate and graduate students, and their parents, an opportunity to refinance education loans at lower interest rates, potentially saving borrowers thousands of dollars.

With nearly 40 million Americans working to repay $1.2 trillion in student loans, due in part to skyrocketing tuition rates, the average student loan debt is nearly $30,000. Graduates are struggling to pay those loans off though, with a third of all student loan dollars issued through the Federal Direct program currently in default, forbearance, or deferment.

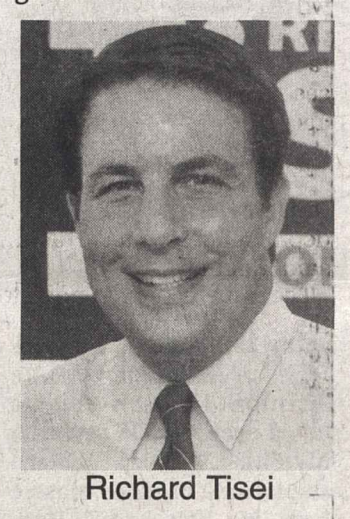

According to the press statement, current law prevents hard-working, responsible borrowers from refinancing their student loans to the same historically low interest rates that those who have home and auto loans have access to today. Despite the lagging economy, graduates are often stuck with interest rates at 8 percent, 12 percent, or even higher.

"Student loan debt is hurting our economy and holding back a generation of Americans," said Tierney. "That's why Senator Elizabeth Warren, Congressman George Miller and I are introducing legislation today to help tens of millions students refinance their existing loans and obtain the same low rate being offered to new loan borrowers. Homeowners and businesses are often able to refinance their debts. Students should be able to do the same. This bill is a responsible solution, and its cost is offset by implementing the 'Buffet Rule' and ensuring millionaires and billionaires pay their fair share in taxes. Congress should immediately act on this important bill."

Once again, the Tisei campaign lashed out at Tierney's record on student debt.

"John Tierney's tenure in Congress has been disastrous for students. Under John Tierney's watch, student loan debt has grown by over 1,000%. Students are struggling not only under the burden of student debt, but also a sluggish economy that prevents them from getting good jobs to pay off that debt. Students need a true advocate in Washington, D.C. with new ideas and John is tardy to class."

If passed, the Bank on Students Emergency Refinancing Act would allow student loan borrowers with public or private loans who borrowed before 2013 to refinance their loans to the lower market-based rates established for students last summer in the Bipartisan Student Loan Certainty Act of 2013. Loans borrowed for undergraduate education would be refinanced to 3.86%; loans borrowed for graduate education would be refinanced to 5.41%; and loans borrowed by parents for their child's education would be refinanced to 6.41%.

Keep a Lid on Vacation Costs

By Jason Alderman

Summer vacation is right around the corner. I'm not a big believer in pre-planning every single detail – sometimes the best vacation moments are spontaneous. But unless your rich uncle is paying for the trip, you'll need to do a certain amount of preparation or your budget will fly out the window.

You do have a vacation budget, right? If not, here are a few suggestions for creating one and some cost-saving ideas to help keep expenses down:

First, be realistic about what you can afford. If your vacation will take more than a month or two to pay off, you may want to scale back on this year's trip and start setting aside money now for next year.

When building a trip budget, try to anticipate all potential expenses. Consider things like:

Airfare-related expenses. Include taxes and fees for items like changing flights, extra leg room, priority boarding, Wi-Fi access, meals, and checked, oversized or overweight baggage.

Kayak.com, Airfarewatchdog.com and Travelnerd.com provide handy charts that compare various fees for popular airlines; however, always double-check the airline's own posted rules before booking your flight.

Transportation to and from the airport – at home and all travel locations.

Car rentals. Factor in taxes, gas, fill-up penalties and insurance (check your auto insurance and credit card policies to ensure you don't pay for duplicate coverage).

Hotel/lodging. Don't forget taxes and other local fees, charges for phone/Internet, room service, early check-in or departure, gratuities, etc.

Hotel room rates often are based on double occupancy. Although kids usually can stay for free, many hotels charge extra for additional adults.

Entertainment. Include meals and snacks, event admission and ticket-ordering charges, transit passes or taxis, sporting equipment rental, babysitters, and special clothing or accessory requirements (sunscreen, hiking boots, etc.)

Throw in an extra 10 or 15 percent for unanticipated expenses – lost luggage, flat tire, etc.

Search for deals on flights, hotels and rental cars at comparison sites like Orbitz.com, Kayak.com, Priceline.com, Hotwire.com, Hotels.com and Travelzoo.com. But beware: Before clicking "confirm," make sure the final price matches the initial quote. I've seen fares jump $50 or more in just minutes or had the seat I was booking suddenly become unavailable.

A few additional tips:

Follow and "like" airlines and ticketing sites on Facebook and Twitter. They'll often share sales, discounts and promotional codes with their followers.

If the airfare goes down after you've purchased your ticket, ask the airline or ticketing site to refund the difference – it couldn't hurt to ask.

Print and carry a copy of your airline's Contract of Carriage, which outlines your rights and the airline's obligations should your flight be cancelled or delayed for reasons besides weather or other "acts of God."

Consider vacation rentals listed on sites like Airbnb.com, VRBO.com and HomeAway.com. You can often find cheaper accommodations with more space and amenities than hotels offer.

Before booking a hotel room online, call the individual property to see if they can beat the company's posted rate. Also ask for member discounts for organizations you belong to like AAA or AARP.

Practical Money Skills for Life, a free personal financial management program run by Visa Inc., has a handy web-based travel calculator that can help you estimate travel costs and rejigger them to meet your budget needs (www.practicalmoneyskills.com/calculators). It's also available as a free iPhone app, which you can download from iTunes.

Bottom line: A little preplanning now can ensure you don't blow your whole budget on unexpected vacation expenses.

Walk dogs somewhere else

There are signs clearly posted, at each of the entrances of Wildwood Cemetery, stating NO DOGS ALLOWED, but the last 3 times I was down there, people have been in there walking their dogs. This is sacred grounds, please walk you dogs somewhere else.

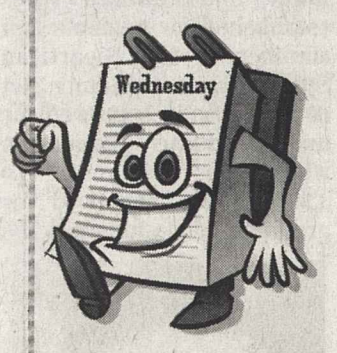

Cemetery damage

Someone is destroying my families flower pots. Easter Sunday tulips were cut at soil level and removed. We wished they had taken the whole pot. Replacement tulips were kicked over and crushed. One week later a pot of pansies were secured to the soil with stakes, unable to lift it the vandals just took the pansies and dumped them. Very disheartening after the very recent burial of a loved one.

Clean up litter

Can we do something about the trash on Glen Road along the sidewalk??? The amount of trash just before the railroad tracks certainly detracts from a nice walk to the Town Hall. I'll be happy to help pick it up if the Town can help organize a Green Day. Lets get it done!

Wilmington Police Department awarded $100,000

Award part of major Cummings Foundation grant

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Police Department has been selected as one of 100 local nonprofits to receive grants of $100,000 each through Cummings Foundation's $100K for 100 program. The Wilmington Police Department was chosen from more than 430 applicants during a very competitive review process.

Lead by Chief Michael Begonis, the Wilmington Police Department provides services to the approximately 22,500 residents of the town in addition to the thousands of people who commute to or travel through Wilmington on a daily basis.

Chief Begonis stated, "We are excited and thankful for this opportunity to partner with the Cummings Organization in enhancing public safety initiatives such as traffic safety and our community outreach programs such as RAD (Rape Aggression Defense), Citizens CPR, & National Night Out."

Now in its third year, the $100K for 100 program awards $10 million in grants annually to nonprofits that are not only based in but also primarily serve Middlesex, Essex, and Suffolk counties. This year, the program is awarding 38 grants in Middlesex County, 25 in Essex County, and 37 in Suffolk County.

The community that will benefit from the greatest number of grants is Roxbury, which is home to nine nonprofits receiving awards. Six grants each will be distributed in Beverly, Lawrence, and Woburn.

Through this "place-based" grants program, Cummings Foundation aims to give back in the area where it owns commercial buildings, all of which are managed by its affiliate Cummings Properties. Founded in 1970 by Bill Cummings, the Woburn-based commercial real estate firm leases and manages more than 10 million square feet of commercial space, the majority of which exclusively benefits the Foundation.

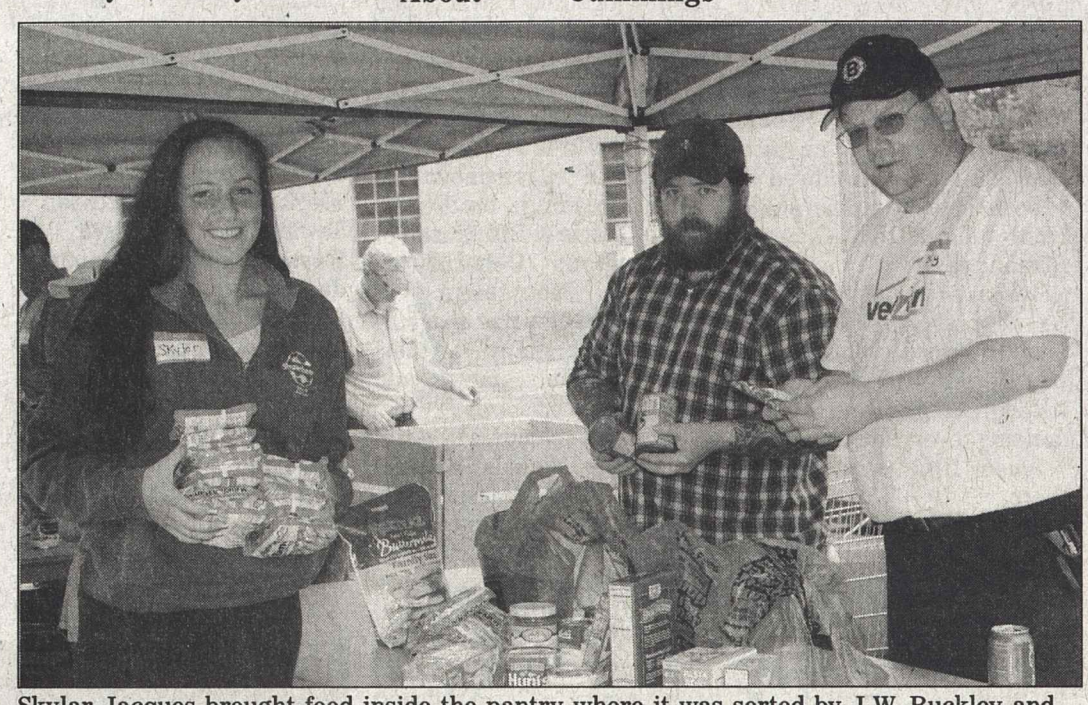

Two campuses in Wilmington, on Concord Street and Fordham Road, are among the Foundation's properties.

This year's very diverse group of grant recipients represents a wide variety of causes, including underserved populations, education, healthcare, hunger relief, and homelessness prevention. Most of the grants will be paid over two to five years.

Representatives from the recipient organizations will be invited to attend an exclusive Grantee Reception on June 2 at TradeCenter 128 in Woburn to celebrate the $10 million infusion of funding into greater Boston's nonprofit sector. The complete list of 100 grant award winners will be released that evening, and will be posted at: www.CummingsFoundation.org.

About Cummings Foundation

Woburn-based Cummings Foundation, Inc. was established in 1986 by Joyce and Bill Cummings of Winchester, MA. With assets exceeding $1 billion, it is one of the largest grant-making foundations in New England. The Foundation directly operates its own charitable subsidiaries, including two New Horizons retirement communities in Marlborough and Woburn. Its largest single commitment to date was $50 million to Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine at Tufts University in North Grafton, MA. Additional information is available at www.CummingsFoundation.org.

Tewksbury's Walk for Education to be held on Sunday

TEWKSBURY - The Fifth Annual Dewing and North Street Elementary School PAC Walk-a-Thon will be held on Sunday, May 18th from 10am to 2pm at the Ryan School Field, 135 Pleasant Street, Tewksbury.

Students, along with their families and teachers will "Walk for Education". Two hundred twenty-two (222) walkers are registered so far for the 2014 event. Walkers gather pledges for their best efforts at 25 or more laps. The PACs and local businesses donate prizes for most laps walked for students in each grade.

The Walk-For-Education was started in 2010 by Ann Gerry, a parent who wanted to organize an effort to raise funds to supply every classroom in the North Street School with Smart Boards. She coordinated three walks (2010, 2011, and 2012) and succeeded in getting Smart Boards for all the classrooms over those three years.

In 2013 and 2014, the fundraising goal progressed to include efforts to refurbish the Dewing and North Street libraries, fund technology improvements, and support arts and enrichment programming.

Parent volunteer Leah Abraham organized the 2013 event and is again leading the efforts of parent, teacher, and student volunteers for 2014.

According to Abraham, "The walk-a- thon is a great event because the children participate directly in the walking. It is the only event where we get children ages pre-K through fourth together for one event, and so many parents and community members come together to make the event a success."

Last year, students walked to earn lunch with North Street Principal Angela Kimble, and lunch with Dewing Principal Paul Galello and Assistant Principal Jan Fuller.

Students walked a minimum of 25 laps if they could, but most kids went on to average 5.2 miles. Second grader Tristan Leslie walked 12.5 miles, and fourth grader Sean Fahey walked 13 miles which were outstanding achievements for kids who were eight and ten years old.

In order for the Walk to be a success, many volunteers are needed. There is still room for signups so if you have an hour to mark lap cards, help with infield games or help at the refreshment table, please email dewingnorthWAT@gmail.com.

Community sponsors have generously donated prizes and supplies including Harrows Chicken Pie, Dr. Demetriou, Tewksbury Federal Credit Union, Stop and Shop, Tewksbury Country Club, Metro Credit Union, Orange Leaf, Laser Craze, LJ DiPalma, and more. Rain date is set for Sunday, June 1.

Toland selected to be a Coastal Fellow at URI

Ashley Toland of Tewksbury, Mass., has been selected to be a Coastal Fellow for the summer of 2014 at the University of Rhode Island.

The Coastal Fellows program is a competitive environmental fellowship initiative designed to involve URI undergraduate students in addressing current environmental problems.

Now in its 20th year, the program teams students with faculty, research staff and graduate students to conduct hands-on research that will help the students gain skills that will ensure their future success.

The fellows will study such topics as invasive species, evolutionary genetics, wildlife habitat, aquaculture, water quality and more.

Doris V. Reitchel

Worked for Town of Wilmington and Fenton Real Estate

WILMINGTON - Doris V. (Skeffington) Reitchel, age 87, a long-time resident of Wilmington, died peacefully on May 2, 2014.

Doris was born in Boston, MA, on September 30, 1926; she was the cherished daughter of the late Richard and Doris (Johnson) Skeffington. Doris was raised and educated in Somerville and was a graduate of Somerville High School with the Class of 1943.

Doris married and moved to Wilmington in 1950, where she raised a large and loving family. Doris was a "stay at home mom" for many years, she was truly devoted to raising her family of nine with unconditional love, endless support, and lots of guidance; they were absolutely her pride and joy. Doris was delighted when she became a grandmother and then a great-grandmother; all the more family to love and cherish.

As her family grew, Doris went to work at the Wilmington Town Hall for many years and then started a career in Real Estate. Doris worked at Fenton Real Estate Company in Wilmington where she had a great rapport with her customers as well as her coworkers. Doris always had a "keen eye" and a fascination for Real Estate which made her successful throughout the years.

In her spare time Doris enjoyed sewing, dancing, going to bingo, and playing cards with her family and friends.

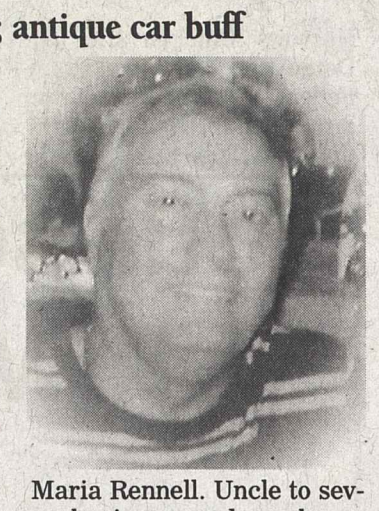

Doris will be fondly remembered as a woman of great faith, strength, and for her kindness to others. Doris touched countless lives throughout the years with her helpfulness and generosity; she was truly an amazing lady who will be sorely missed by all.

Doris was the beloved and devoted mother of Paul Reitchel & his wife Ellen of Augusta, ME, Kevin Reitchel & his wife Barbara and Richard Reitchel & his wife Debra all of China, ME, Marilyn Reitchel-Gambale of Augusta, ME, John "Bing" Reitchel & Joanne Centrella of Tewksbury, MA, Gene Reitchel of Naples, ME, William Reitchel & his wife Pamela Landry of Bradford, MA, Dorice Reitchel & her husband Bob Falco of Manchester, NH, and the late James Reitchel, loving "Nana" of Eddie, Dorice, Allison, Kimberly, Paul, Tiffany, Stacey, Dick Jr., Katey, Andrea, John, Tracy, Peter, Robert, William, Christopher, Gabriella, Julia, and the late Kristyn, "Big Nana" of Lincoln, Easton, Emmett, Ryan, Tyler, Casey, Brooke, Paige, Reid, Riley, Alexander, Layla, Arianna, Liliana, Michael, Violet, and Paige. Cherished daughter of the late Richard and Doris (Johnson) Skeffington, dear sister of Linda Furrua of Novato, CA, the late Grace Preaux, Jean Griffiths, and Richard Skeffington. Doris is also survived by many nieces, nephews, extended family, and close friends.

Family and friends gathered at the Nichols Funeral Home, 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington, on Monday, May 5th at 9:00 a.m. followed by a Mass of Christian Burial in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington at 10:00 a.m. Interment followed in Wildwood Cemetery. Passion for Fashion

By Sharon Adelman Crowley
Town Crier Correspondent
Sharon@YourTownCrier.com

Alex Mecherkany of Bernard Jewelers puts the finishing touches on a purchase at Ladies' Night in March. Alex writes a blog on Instagram that has received national attention.
www.shootingstarspix.com

During her junior year in high school Alex Mecherkany was flipping through a magazine when she realized she had a passion for fashion. Fascinated by the process of creating beautiful, unique outfits - combinations she would have been too afraid to try herself - she became obsessed with different pieces and how to pair them together.

A 2013 graduate of Tewksbury Memorial High School, Alex now works full time with her younger sister Gabrielle and parents Suzan and Bernard for their family business, Bernard Jewelers.

To stay current on fashion trends, Alex created an Instagram account. Named "flowersforalex" for her adoration of floral patterns, she carefully curates clothing and accessories with the occasional fresh manicure thrown in.

She considers her Instagram account a fashion blog, which has been featured on high-profile retail sites such as Famous Footwear, Icing, and Forever 21.

Forever 21 featured one of Alex's coordinated outfits on their website in a gallery with tips on how to style their items.

"I didn't even know I made it onto their site," she said. "One of my followers messaged me and sent me the picture. I was in shock. I'm really hoping to be featured on Forever 21's Instagram - they have over 3 million followers!"

FlowersforAlex is nothing to sneeze at; within a few months she gained over 6,000 followers.

"I truly believe fashion gives you a way to express yourself," Alex said. "You can be whoever you want to be, simply by dressing the part. The way someone dresses, I think, makes them unique."

Dressing well also lifts you up, she adds. "How many times have you looked at someone and thought highly of them, simply because of the way they looked? If you're walking around with an outfit you know looks great on you, old or new, you feel great and stand a little taller."

Alex is also well-versed in coordinating jewelry with her outfits. She even created a special jewelry section in her store featuring costume jewelry.

"Accessories can make an outfit," she said. "For example, if you were wearing jeans and a plain white t-shirt, you could pair it with a long, simple necklace with a pretty bead or detail at the end. Paired with cute sandals or flats, it would make a gorgeous casual outfit. Take that same pair of jeans and the t-shirt and pair it with a chunky statement necklace that went with your favorite pair of heels and you have a totally different outfit."

As for makeup, Alex is a big fan of winged eyeliner for a playful, but classy look this spring. Simple application of makeup works well with neutral-colored clothing in different textures or patterns. "It makes the outfit interesting to the eye."

If you choose a vibrant haircolor, which is the trend this spring, Alex recommends a straightforward outfit.

"Since your hair is already a statement it's important to keep the outfit simple. Focus on one main color in the outfit and use accessories to compliment that color so your overall look isn't too overwhelming."

Her favorite trends for nails this spring are toned and soft-hued colors. "I love pastels!" Alex said.

"Florals are another huge trend this season and will never go out of style."

Also popular this spring - nails painted in coordinated color palettes. "I currently have a dark turquoise color on my thumb, pointer and middle finger and chartreuse on my ring finger and pinky."

Ultimately, Alex believes you should wear what makes you feel good. "Wear whatever you want, whatever you're comfortable in and don't be afraid to try something new or pair something you aren't sure about simply because it's not the norm. Fashion is a way of expression, it should but as unique as you are."

Express Yourself

Adventurous hair and nail trends this spring

By Sharon Adelman Crowley
Town Crier Correspondent
Sharon@YourTownCrier.com

It may still be damp and cold out, but spring is here.

Flowers are blooming and bees are making their rounds. Time to dust off the winter blues and infuse a little optimism into your life - perhaps with a spring makeover. Unsure where to start? Who better to ask than the up-and-coming cosmetology experts at Shawsheen Valley Regional Technical High School. Instructor Sandy Barnes and her students offer insight into this spring's trends on hair color, nail care, and make-up.

Hair

Hair trends this spring for women will be artistic and bold, says Barnes.

"Foiling is one of the biggest trends this year. The industry is changing. Before, people didn't want you to know they were coloring their hair. Now we are moving out of basic hair colors like blondes and browns - what people are naturally born with - and into fashion colors like red-violets, pinks, blues, and purples."

Senior cosmetology student Allyson Delano agrees, vibrant and "out-there" colors are 'in' this spring.

"I think a big spring trend is bright colors, either as an all-over red or just in highlights or peek-a-boo pieces," says the licensed cosmetology operator from Billerica.

The vibrant hair color trend began with pink extensions aimed to spread awareness for breast cancer. Customers then wanted to replace the extensions with actual streaks of pink, bleached and then colored.

From there it blossomed to partial foil and then full foil.

"It's brought color to a whole new level," says Barnes. "It's a way to express yourself and change things up." Barnes, an instructor at the Tech for seven years, has seen significant changes in hair color and style.

"In the beginning, they used a few highlights. Now it's phenomenal."

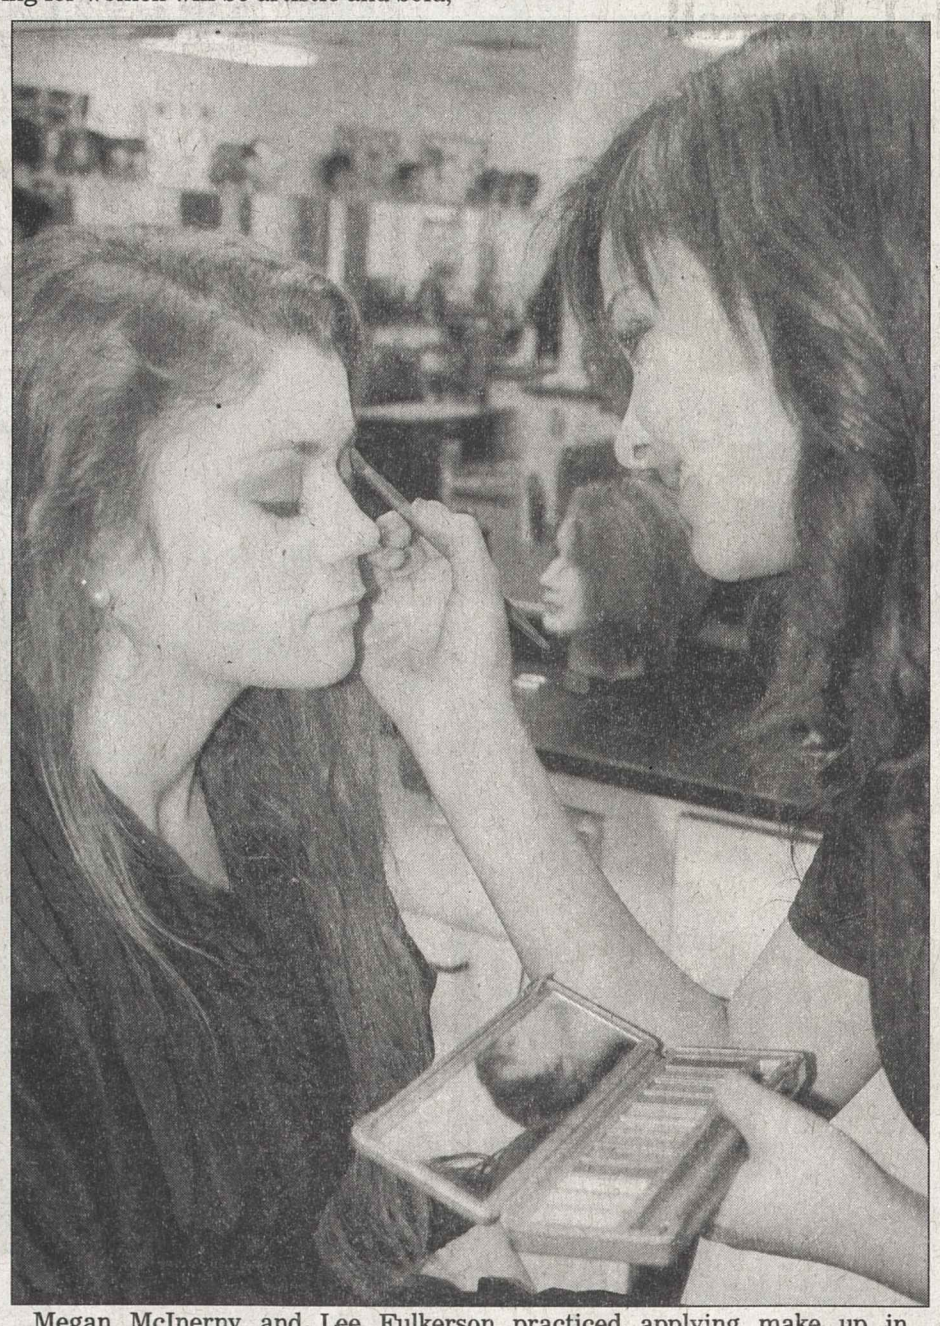

On a demo mannequin, one student shaved half the head, painted blue leopard spots above the left ear as though it was a tattoo, then colored the rest of the head vibrant blue with swept-over bangs. Another student used a mannequin with long hair, coloring it bright red underneath and leaving the rest of it black. "It was beautiful," Bernard said. "They are really thinking out of the box now, showing their creativity, and producing some nice looks."

Cosmetology students work to achieve their Massachusetts State Board License by completing a 1,000-hour program and passing a written and practical exam. Once licensure is acquired, students may participate in the Cooperative Education Program at local hair salons and spas. Of the 17 seniors enrolled in the cosmetology program this semester, 13 currently work in co-ops.

The students have noted that in addition to color, style is also governed by spring trends. This spring, shorter styles will be more prevalent. For men, trends will include fades, which are short on the bottom and progressively longer towards the top, and line-ups, a hairstyle that involves cutting the hair close to the head around the hairline. Keeping the hair longer is another spring trend for men, according to Tewksbury sophomore Krystal Matsas.

Hairstyle trends for women will be cute, manageable cuts that are short, stacked, layered.

"Age does not matter when it comes to hairstyles," suggests Tewksbury Sophomore Kate Gilbert. "In fact, some hairstyles can make you look younger or older. A woman's hairstyle does not depend on age. It depends on what makes them feel happy."

Billerica sophomore Meredith Curley encourages the use of heat protectants with curling irons and flat irons. Heat protectants prep the hair for styling and defend against damage from high temperature blow dryers, flat irons or curling irons. These products are available in spray, serum, mousse, and cream.

Makeup

Makeup this spring will be uncomplicated. "Minimal makeup is very in right now," says Tewksbury sophomore Kayla Carroll. "Natural looks are used with neutral colors." Billerica sophomore Meredith Curley includes smoky eyes and golds with winged eyeliner to her spring look.

Nails

Fingernail color and design will be adventurous this spring. "I see a lot of my peers wearing a completely different design on almost every nail," says Wilmington sophomore Dakota Monteiro. "It doesn't look like a mess though! What I usually see is a few colors that look good together, just used in different ways on different nails."

Tewksbury senior Caitlin McCreedy, licensed as both a cosmetology operator and manicurist, thinks pastels are always classic, recommending a small, cute flower added to the ring finger for a perfect spring look.

For men and women, maintaining healthy nails prevents infections. For men, a manicure is a good way to learn proper nail care. Otherwise, avoid using your fingernails as tools. This can damage the nail beds and cuticles. Remember to scrub under nails to remove debris and bacteria. After washing hands, avoid over-drying them with a towel and keep them hydrated with lotion.

Finally, always remember to use sunscreen on exposed areas of the body, even on overcast days, to help prevent sun damage and age spots.

HEALTH NOTIFICATION

Are You Hard of Hearing?

A major name brand hearing aid provider wishes to field test a remarkable new digital hearing instrument in the area. This offer is free of charge and you are under no obligation.

These revolutionary 100% Digital instruments use the latest technology to comfortably and almost invisibly help you hear more clearly. This technology solves the "stopped up ears" and "head in a barrel" sensation some people experience.

If you wish to participate, you will be required to have your hearing tested in our office FREE OF CHARGE to determine candidacy and review your results with the hearing instruments with our hearing care specialist.

At the end of this evaluation, you may keep your instrument, if you so desire, at a tremendous savings for participating in this field test. Special testing will be done to determine the increased benefits of this technology.

Benefits of hearing aids vary by type and degree of hearing loss, noise environment, accuracy of hearing test, and proper fit. This is a wonderful opportunity to determine if hearing help is available for your hearing loss and get help at a very affordable price.

SOME FEDERAL WORKERS AND RETIREES MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR HEARING AIDS AT NO COST!

That's Right... No Co Pay! No Exam Fee! No Adjustment Fee!

MOST INSURANCE PLANS ARE ACCEPTED INCLUDING BLUE CROSS BLUE SHIELD

What is a CSA?(RR)

Thursday, May 29, 7 pm

Would you like to pick up fresh vegetables and fruit once a week at the library this summer? Farmer Dave from Dracut, Massachusetts and the library are working together again this year to offer a CSA (Community Supported Agriculture) pick up at the library. Farmer Dave will be on hand to explain how a CSA works and share options that are available.

Basic Lawnmower Repair

Thursday, June 5, 7pm

Would you like to know what to do the next time your lawnmower gives out? Learn from the expert! With many miles of lawn mowing experience, Wilmington resident and all-around mechanic, Al Landry, will teach you the basics of lawnmower repair. Show the lawnmower who's boss!

How to Work with Recruiters

Monday, June 9, 9:30am

Gabriella Calzolari, Director of Recruitment and Selection for Northwestern Mutual, will explain how to work with recruiters: establish a mutually beneficial relationship, attend events, use LinkedIn, resume tips, and introductions. Recruiters often know several other recruiters in different industries. If they cannot help you, they may forward your resume to a friend if you make a good impression. Recommendations from respected recruiters are gold and one will help put your name at the top of the list.

Author Talk -Ted Reinstein: New England Notebook: One Reporter, Six States, Uncommon Stories

Tuesday, June 10, 7pm

Author Ted Reinstein begins the library's Summer Author Series. Reinstein is best known around New England as a longtime correspondent for "Chronicle," the celebrated nightly newsmagazine which airs on Boston's ABC affiliate, WCVB-TV. A New England Notebook: One Reporter, Six States, Uncommon Stories, in an unusual encyclopedic style, recounts some of Ted's favorite people and stories from his many travels around New England for "Chronicle." National Geographic Traveler selected it as one of "The Best Travel Books of Spring."

Book Store Next Door

The Book Store Next Door marked its 7th year in operation this past April. Thanks to volunteers, donors and shoppers, who have made the Book Store Next Door a triple win for the community. The Book Store Next Door is a place to recycle your books, buy books at bargain prices, and support the Friends of the Library. Every cent of the Book Store's income (over $100,000 in seven years) has been given to the public library to support the wonderful programs for all ages that residents enjoy at no charge. The Book Store Next Door is open on Wednesday and Saturday from 10 am to 4 pm. Stop by and check out this unique book store.

The Golden Rule has always guided the owners and staff at Tewksbury Funeral Home. Caring for and guiding the family of a loved one who has passed is the most important part of our service.
A family of service minded people intent on helping the community in many ways, the Deputat family has helped charter and is a member of several civic organizations in Tewksbury.
When one visits the funeral home one is steeped in the town's history. The building was built over a century ago and has been in the family well over half that time. Lovingly restored and improved by hand by Walter Deputat, the facility is designed to accommodate large and small gatherings, all in the comfort of our up-to-date building.

We invite families to contact us in time of need or for preplanning. We are dedicated to providing the very best facilities, a full range of merchandise, and the finest funeral services at a reasonable cost.
We are committed to serving Tewksbury and the surrounding towns with compassionate services at a cost that only a family owned provider can offer.
Our goal is to not only to meet, but to exceed, our client expectations.

Cranes for Collier

MIT creates moving tribute

By Paige Impink
Special to the Town Crier

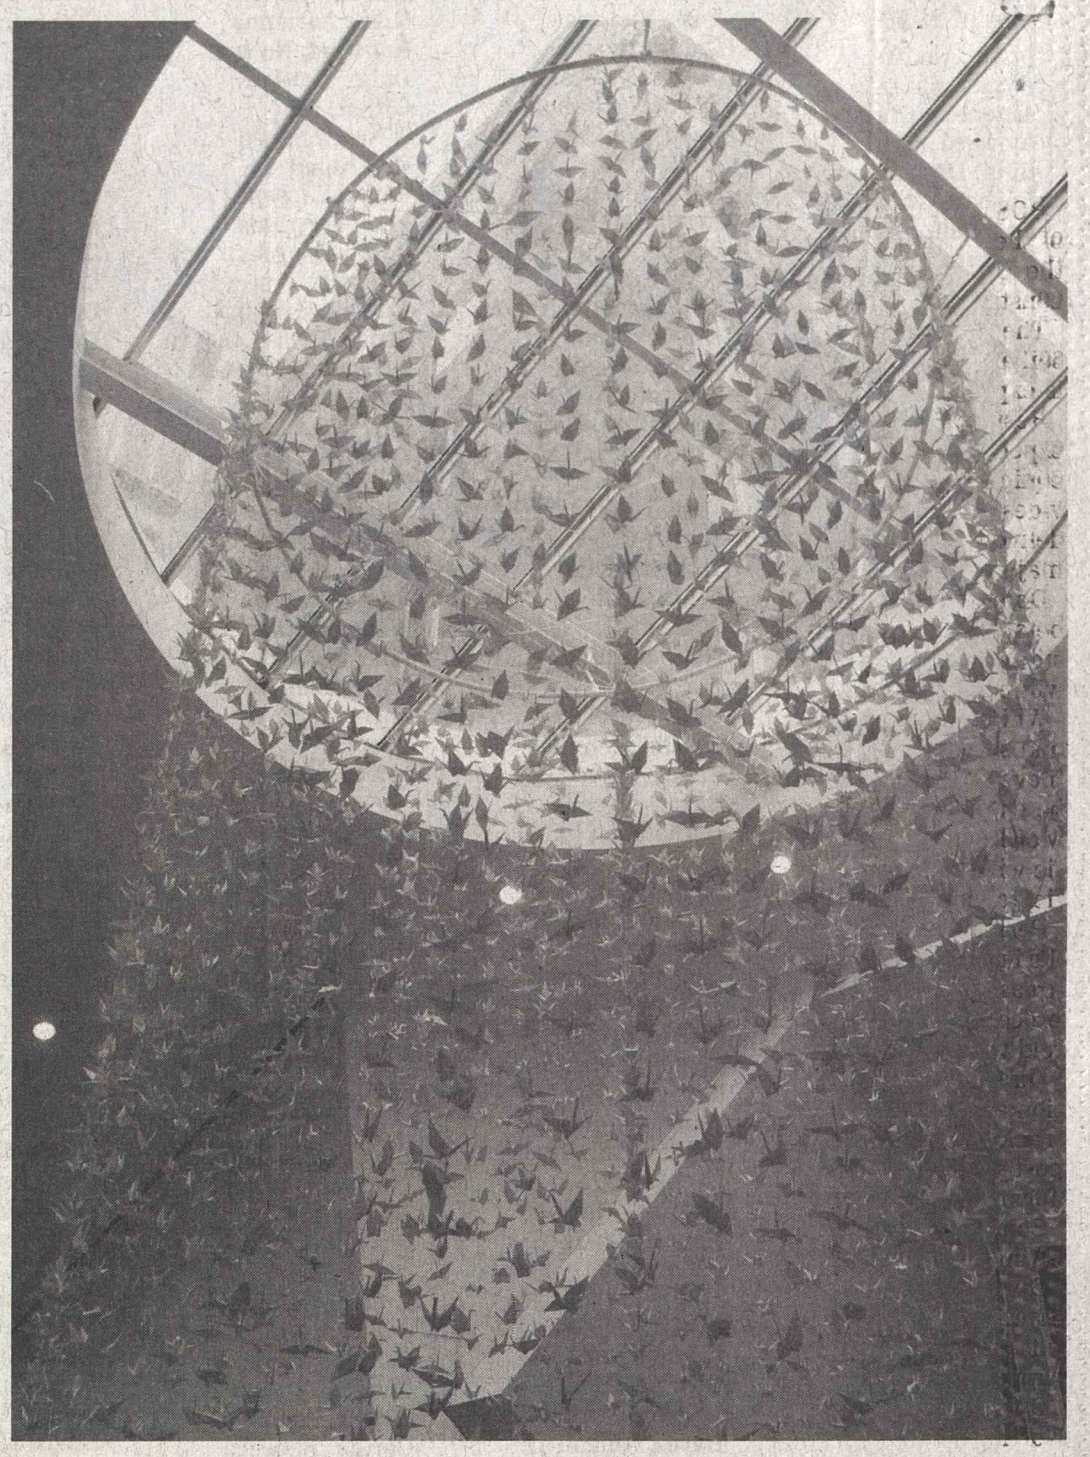

CAMBRIDGE -As an expression of grief, solidarity and caring, a group of individuals on the MIT campus came together to create Collier's Cranes, a display of approximately 2700 origami birds symbolizing "peace and community", according to the organizers. Origami is the Japanese art of paper folding and is an ancient craft. Origami cranes symbolize a hope for peace. As you may know, MIT has a longstanding tradition of producing "hacks", or pranks, but this hack was undertaken as a serious memorial project, and installation was carried out by anonymous night workers. Though the name might suggest otherwise, there is no association with computer hackers.

Students, volunteers, school groups, friends and community members folded these graceful and intricate cranes as a salute to Sean Collier, the MIT police officer who was tragically killed during the Marathon bombing manhunt. Twenty-six years old and a Wilmington native, Collier wanted nothing more than to be in law enforcement. The project was put in place in April to mark the one year anniversary of his death.

The cranes are suspended from a giant hoop in the Gates Atrium of the Stata Center building on the MIT campus. Strung from clear filament, the white birds evoke an image of light streaming down from the sky in gentle strands. It is quite moving. Informational panels are placed on the walls to explain the artwork, and a mirror in the lobby adds an extra dimension through the reflection and play of light. The MIT administration has decided to let this hack stay in place for as long as possible.

Just outside of the atrium is the location of a small sitting area which will become a memorial park. A temporary tribute is in place now which has flowers and personal mementos carefully arranged around a granite tablet. Lanterns flank the arc, and signs stating "Collier Strong" and "MIT Strong" are just to the right in windows of the MIT police office. A large sign board shows the rendering of the planned memorial park which will reside at the corner of Main and Vassar streets. It is worth stopping by if you are in Cambridge to see this spectacular and emotional gesture. For more information, visit cranes.mit.edu.

Silvertones Dance May 19; breakfast by Friends of the Elderly June 8

This year, the theme for our float is "A Tribute to Our Working Dogs," honoring our four-legged friends who serve our police and military. Working dogs play a very important role in protecting our nation. Their agility and keen senses allow them to scout for and apprehend suspects, detect drugs and explosives and protect their handlers at any cost. Did you know that a working dog was present when the U.S. Navy Seals apprehended Osama bin Laden in 2011?! If you would like to work on this year's float or participate in the parade, please sign-up at reception. We hope to have you there!

The men's group meeting will be on Thursday, May 8th and Thursday May 29th at 9:00 at the Senior Center.

DJ Jon Mansfield will be back to the Senior Center for an afternoon dance on Monday, May, 19th . Those who obtain a ticket by Wednesday, May, 14th will have lunch included in the $6 ticket price.

The MS Support Group will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, May 19th at 10:00 AM. This group is open the public.

The Silvertones Band will hold a dance at the Senior Center on Friday, May 16th at 7:00 PM. Tickets may be purchased at the door at $10 per person. The evening will include dancing refreshments.

There will be no Zingo on Tuesday, May 20th due to the GAC officer's installation.

The Senior Center will be closed on Monday May 26, in observance of the Memorial Day Holiday.

A breakfast benefit hosted by the Friends of the Elderly, will be held on Sunday June 8th from 7:30-11:00AM at the Senior Center. All proceeds from this breakfast will be used to fund the Senior Center's activities. Menu will include: pancakes, scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, corned beef hash, beans, toast & beverages. There will also be a bake sale table. Adults are $7, children 12 and under are $3 and toddlers free. Public Welcome!

Lastly, the public is reminded that the Senior Center's Upscale Consignment Boutique and the Snooti Patooti Gift Shop are open from 11:00 AM to 3:00 PM Monday- Thursday and on Fridays from 9:30 to 11:00 AM. All proceeds from the shops support the programs and activities at the Senior Center.

Spinners announce June 22 Faith & Family Day

Post-game concert featuring Jimmy Needham

LOWELL, MASS. – The Lowell Spinners, Class-A affiliate of the World Series Champion Boston Red Sox, announced they will host their first ever Faith & Family Day at the ballpark, highlighted by a post-game concert by Jimmy Needham with special guests Bobby Bishop and Lukus Simari Sunday, June 22.

The event coincides with the Spinners 3:05pm game with the Tri-City ValleyCats, with the concert presented by FUSE Christian Concerts, a 501c3 charitable organization.

"We are very excited to add another dimension to our promotional schedule," said Spinners Assistant General Manager Jon Boswell. "Jimmy's music is really applicable for anyone as a mixture of a Gavin DeGraw and Jason Mraz, while his lyrics and passion really tie into the overall Faith & Family Night concept."

Admission for the game and concert will be single admission, meaning for the price of a game ticket, fans can enjoy nine innings of baseball and entertainment PLUS the post-game from $7-$10. A limited amount of pre-game barbeque tickets remain available as well.

In addition to Needham, special guests Bobby Bishop and Lukus Simari will open the show. Simari, who grew up in Lowell, and Bishop, a Massachusetts resident, will bring a local flavor to the show.

"We are really looking forward to welcoming Bobby and Lukus to LeLacheur Park," said Boswell. "We think their music will really resonate with the crowd."

In addition to the Post-Game concert, the game will include the traditional Spinners fare, including post-game Kids Run the Bases and Tooth-Brush Holder Bobble Heads for the first 1,000 fans through the gates, presented by Collins Dentistry for Children.

Tickets for Faith and Family Night, in addition to the full 2014 Spinners schedule are on sale now at www.LowellSpinners.com or by phone at (978) 459-1702. The Spinners open their 2014 season at home against the Vermont Lake Monsters on Friday, June 13 with a 7:05 first pitch.

EPA news for the Sutton Brook Disposal Area Superfund site

Sutton Brook clean up begins next week

By Jayne W. Miller
News Edtor
Jayne@YourTownCrier.com

BOSTON/TEWKSBURY – Next week Tewksbury residents will finally start to see signs of the clean up of the Sutton Brook Superfund site with the announcement Tuesday that the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will begin mobilization for construction work on Monday, May 19, 2014.

The $30 million clean-up work includes excavation and consolidation of contaminated soil and sediments, which will then be placed under a landfill cap. The construction work is expected to continue into 2016.

Residents along Shawsheen Street, Bridge Street, and South Street in particular can expect a slight increase in traffic with the delivery of office trailers and construction equipment to the site off South Street, along with loads of aggregate/gravel, which provides a stable surface for the office trailers. This phase will require approximately 40 deliveries to the site and will take place during the weeks of May 19 and May 26, with the majority arriving the week of May 19.

Don McElroy, Project Manager for the EPA and assigned to the Sutton Brook site even before it was listed with the Superfund in June 2001, said that "Following mobilization the site will be active and regular periodic deliveries of supplies, materials, and equipment will occur."

While construction is underway, all excavation and consolidation of contaminated soils and sediments will be confined to the site and no contaminated soil or sediment will be moved off site. Clean fill and other construction and other construction materials will be trucked in for the purpose of capping the landfill's northern and Southern lobes, said McElroy. At this time it is expected that transport of fill involving significant truck traffic will begin in late June. EPA will provide advance notice of the increase in truck traffic, to town officials and through local media, including the Town Crier.

Perhaps most important to residents, a number of safety measures will be implemented during the construction period. The site includes contaminated and non-contaminated areas. All vehicles that go into the contaminated areas will go through a decontamination process, a wash station, upon leaving that section, to contain contamination, McElroy told the Crier.

Outside the contamination areas construction vehicles will go through a wheel wash station at the exit to the site. Site managers will also monitor South Street for any soil/mud tracking, particularly following periods of wet weather. Of course, trucks must obey all posted speed limits while traveling on roads in residential areas. EPA is working with the Town of Tewksbury on additional safety measures.

Construction Schedule:

Almost all construction activity will occur between months of April and November.

During 2014: Trucks will be hauling clean fill and other capping material to the Southern Lobe of the site. Contaminated soils will be consolidated and capped in the landfill. The vertical barrier will be constructed and most of the Southern Lobe will be capped. Operation of groundwater extraction system is expected to begin in the fall.

During 2015: Trucks will be hauling clean fill and other capping materials to the Northern Lobe of the site. Capping of both the Southern and Northern Lobes will be completed.

During 2016: Primarily completion of access roads, wetlands restoration, and fencing.

For McElroy, who has been with this project since 2000, reaching the clean-up stage of the project represents the biggest phase of the project, as it implements the remedy. Though it has taken fourteen years to get to this step in the process, McElroy notes that Sutton Brook is actually a "pretty fast site."

"In the big picture, we're at a culmination stage with lots of effort by lots of people. A citizen group, TOXIC, has been involved throughout, examining study plans and design plans throughout. That collaboration has worked really, really well," said McElroy.

"Though the timelines sounds crazy, how can 14 years be fast?" quips McElroy. He explained that a significant part of the process includes settling with the group of potentially responsible parties (PRPs) on two occasions: first to undertake study work to determine where the risks were, which led to the remedy. Then, once the remedy was chosen, EPA negotiated with the parties to get them to commit to implementing the remedy.

Residents and interested parties can register for email updates for the Sutton Brook Superfund site by sending contact info to Sarah White at white.sarah@epa.gov.

In September 2007, EPA selected a comprehensive remedy for the site valued at approximately $30 million. The major components of the remedy selected in the September 2007 Record of Decision (ROD) include the following components:

- Excavation of contaminated soils exceeding site-specific cleanup levels from the Former Drum Disposal Area and the former Garage and Storage Area;
- Excavation of contaminated soils and sediments exceeding site-specific cleanup levels from a portion of Sutton Brook between the two landfill lobes;
- Consolidation of excavated soils and sediments along with other debris adjacent to the landfills into the landfills;
- Construction of a low permeability cap over both landfill lobes, including systems to collect and manage gases and stormwater from the landfills;
- Construction of a vertical barrier to intercept groundwater from the southern landfill to prevent it from entering Sutton Brook;
- Collection and treatment of contaminated groundwater from an area west of the southern landfill lobe;
- Monitored natural attenuation of areas of groundwater contamination not captured by the extraction system, with a contingency to expand the area of active groundwater remediation, if necessary;
- Institutional controls such as deed restrictions and/or local ordinances to prevent unacceptable exposures to wastes left in place and to restrict exposure to contaminated groundwater until cleanup levels are met; and
- Long-term groundwater, surface water, and sediment monitoring, and periodic five-year reviews of the remedy.

The Sutton Brook Disposal Area site, also known as Rocco Disposal and Dump or Rocco's Landfill, was listed on the EPA's National Priorities List (NPL) in June 2001. Rocco's Landfill began operations in the early 1950's. Although the landfill was ordered closed by the Town in 1979, waste disposal continued into the 1980's. The site includes a parcel of about 100 acres on which the landfill and a former drum disposal area are located. During operations, the landfill accepted municipal, commercial and industrial wastes. Numerous investigations of the site by local, state, and federal organizations have revealed the presence of volatile organic compounds (VOCs), semi volatile organic compounds (SVOCs), pesticides, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), and inorganic elements in on-site and off-site ground water, surface water, sediment, soil, and VOCs and SVOCs in air samples.

dents and businesses of Wilmington is demonstrated by his unblemished record of 31 years of fire service to the town," Hull wrote.

Donovan, who has served as a Lieutenant since 2008, will "play a critical role in supporting the new chief and ensuring the department is effective."

"The demand for emergency medical and fire related service continues to grow in Wilmington," Hull wrote. "It is my belief that this new management team, in conjunction with the support of the lieutenants and firefighters, is prepared to move the Fire Department to the next level of service."

Bradbury served Wilmington for over forty years. He began his career in the Water Department and then moved to the Fire Department. He has been Chief since 2008.

Board: Don't bring your dog (or your grill) to Silver Lake

Meeting, gives this Board of Selectmen the authority to act as Park Commissioners. They will enforce the rule changes, which include the prohibition of dogs from May 1 to October 1 at 80 Main Street, 79 Main Street, the Baby Beach, 47 and 49 Grove Avenue, and 5 Burnap Street. The Town will also prohibit fire pits and grills.

Members of the Board, as well as other town officials, praised the new rules.

"This is long overdue," said Selectman Michael McCoy.

Police Chief Michael Begonis said he appreciated "the Board's attention to this matter." The changes allow them "to promulgate rules and regulations."

It also achieves a balance between residents and non-residents and keeps a consistency with the rules.

Hull said that they're going to restrict access to the Baby Beach, because non-residents who were unwilling to pay usage fees would instead go there.

"If we don't restrict access there, we're going to have the same issue," he said.

Silver Lake will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Hull said, and they're going to install consistent signs.

Deborah Cipriani, the Director of the Recreation Department, also said she agreed with the changes.

"We share the frustration with the residents," she said. "We didn't come to this lightly."

"We think this is a good start," she added.

The Board unanimously approved the proposed changes.

OTHER:

The Board of Selectmen unanimously voted to name Judy O'Connell its next Chair. She replaces Michael McCoy, who was Chairman for the past year.

"I'd like to thank everyone for the positive comments and for the nomination," she said. "I think we've had a productive year as a Board."

O'Connell and her colleagues thanked McCoy for his leadership.

Woman charged in alleged theft

"We do all kinds of custom and precision small and large weldments, fabrication for energy and power industries as well as industrial, oil and gas piping," explained Marc. "We do have an array of industries that we serve."

The company, which has seven employees, typically grosses about a million dollars annually.

Joseph told the Town Crier that he would leave signed, blank checks when he was away from the office for vacations so that Paolino could pay bills, payroll, and manage other incidental expenses. Police allege that Paolino obtained some blank checks during these periods.

Joseph also claims that Paolino manipulated him to obtain signed, blank checks the rest of the year, through a cleverly disguised scheme to 'buy stamps.' She would mention to him in passing that she needed funds to buy stamps to pay bills. Then, later in the day mention it again, but wait until he was on a phone call and distracted to pop a blank check in front him to sign.

According to police records, checks were allegedly entered into the ledger for fake "metal purchases" or "repairs and maintenance" to hide the transaction, even though they were reportedly made out to and endorsed by Paolino. The owners never saw the check images, because she controlled the bank statements.

"We trusted her," said Marc. "She tried to keep everyone happy."

It was only when Marc started suspecting something wasn't right that the scheme unraveled quickly in March of this year.

The Ciccariellos allege that Paolino had set up office email, bank statements, customer statements, and other methods of external communication and financial reporting in her name, so she was the conduit for all information in and out of the firm. The owners were not aware that their CPA was asking for complete bank statements.

"She kept the advantage, she kept a lot of control that she shouldn't have had," said Marc. "She channeled all the communication through her."

When the owners began looking through the company email and read her messages, which they had not previously done, they say she was looking for a new job and writing disparaging things about the firm. Joseph went to the bank for complete bank statements and upon seeing the list of checks made out to her they called Wilmington Police.

Detective Pat Nally investigated the case. Check amounts ranged from $1,200 to over $6,000, all made out to Paolino.

Paolino has been summonsed to appear for an arraignment at Woburn District Court at 9 am on May 21 on one count of larceny over $250 by single scheme. A call to her attorney was not immediately returned.

Another incredible gesture by Burlington coach and players

By JAMIE POTE

Jamiepote@hotmail.com

For the second straight year, the Burlington High School Baseball team presented a check to the Wilmington High School team on behalf of the Sean Collier Memorial Scholarship Fund. Burlington Head coach Chris Nance and his players raised $400 and presented a check to WHS Coach Aldo Caira and his team before last Thursday's home game played between the two Middlesex League rivals.

"(Nance) told me that as long as he is coaching (Burlington) he'll be doing that every year," said Caira. "He said it's just hard to fathom something like that happening to a kid who lives in our town. We just really appreciate him as a person as what he has done and given (to the Collier Scholarship Fund) and that was nice. It's just such a tremendous gesture and Chris is just a class-act person who coaches a class-act program."

Last year Burlington gave $600 and through the two years the BHS Baseball program has given the Collier Scholarship Fund a combined $1,000 which is such a tremendous gesture.

Collier, a 2004 WHS graduate, was the MIT Police Officer killed during the last year's Boston Marathon bombings.

Wildcats could be dangerous

Speaking of the WHS Baseball team, the Wildcats could be a very dangerous team come post-season but only if the team gets its act together. A very fun group to be around and cover, the team has struggled losing five of its last six games. Poor defense has mainly been the problem, but if the team can muster up two more wins to qualify for the tournament, it will be very good hands with terrific pitching. Not only do the Wildcats have a dynamite 1-2 punch in Jackson Gillis and Mike Curtis, but Matt Woods, Joe Scurto and Jamie Hill can all throw hard and be effective.

The offense has also been up and down this season but the nucleus of Curtis, Gillis, Jimmy Davey – who hits a bullet every time he makes contact – and Hill, this team could make a serious post-season run if it can correct its fielding woes and become a much cleaner and consistent ballclub.

And lastly, apologies go out to Devin Field whose name has been butchered the last few weeks.

Football Playoffs

According to a report in the Boston Herald, the MIAA voted 11-2 in favor of extending the new playoff format through the 2015 season with an extensive evaluation to take place following this upcoming 2014 season. Originally the new system was supposed to be a two-year pilot, but this latest vote extended the system for at least one more season.

The Herald also reported that the MIAA Football Committee agreed by a 12-1 vote to adopt the new rules on targeting the quarterback. When the QB is in a passing motion with one or both feet on the ground, no defensive player can hit at or below the knees, said the Herald. If the infraction occurs in the first half, the player is out for the rest of the game. If it happens in the second half, he is out for the rest of the game as well as the first half of the next game, according to the Herald.

Also, the Herald reports that the MIAA preseason practice guidelines were also discussed at length. Committee member Dana Almeida said the MIAA needs to enforce the rules regarding when full pads can be worn (it is presently on the fourth day), saying he witnessed some schools bending the rules. Another member said a local newspaper took a photo of an early practice in which all players were in full uniform, a direct violation, said the Herald.

Our friend Steve Algeri at the Daily Times Chronicle reported this past week that the Middlesex League girls and boys varsity basketball doubleheaders will return for the 2014-15 season. The league's athletic directors were to make it official at their meeting on Tuesday.

The Middlesex League had been one of the only leagues to have girl-boy varsity basketball doubleheaders when it instituted it across the league beginning in the 1994-95 season. Most other leagues prefer the traditional JV/varsity games, said Algeri.

According to Algeri, two seasons ago, beginning in 2012-13, the Middlesex League changed back to the JV/varsity same gender games putting the girls and boys games at opposite sites.

Reportedly the one tweak in the return will be a 50-50 split on girls and boys game times as to who plays at 5:30 and at 7. In the old girl-boy format, the boys teams pre-

Wildcats continue to struggle with consistency

WILMINGTON -- It was another up-and-down week for the Wilmington High School Baseball team, which has dropped five of its last six games after starting out with a 7-2 record.

This past week the Wildcats lost to Winchester 11-4 in a very sloppy game, before coming back the following day and playing a superb game to defeat Burlington at home 6-2 on Thursday. But then on Monday, Wilmington was defeated by Melrose 4-2 putting the team's record at 8-6.

The Wildcats need to win two of its last six games to qualify for the state tournament. They faced Wakefield on Wednesday with results not known as of presstime and will stay on the road to face Watertown Thursday night, Stoneham on Monday and Tewksbury on Tuesday before hosting the annual Scanlon Memorial tournament on Memorial Day weekend with the first game against Concord-Carlisle and then either the championship or consolation match-up against Salem or Chelmsford.

Last Wednesday the 'Cats played very sloppy with many defensive miscues and a lot of walks which led to Winchester coming away with the 11-4 win despite being outhit 8-6. Sophomore jackson Gillis struggled with his command and walked six over 4.1 innings but did strike out nine. He took the loss to fall to 3-2.

Offensively, Mike Curtis led the way going 2-for-4 including a double, a RBI and scored a run, while Evan Raffi, Jimmy Davey and Gillis each had a double. Davey, Gillis and Jamie Hill also had one RBI each in the losing effort.

In the win over Burlington, the Red Devils scored single runs in the first and second innings to take a 2-0 lead before Wilmington rallied back to score two in the third one in the fourth and three in the fifth for the come from behind win.

"It was good to bounce back like that," said head coach Aldo Caira. "We needed this win and the kids played really well. I told the kids before the game started that (starting pitcher Matt Woods) Woodsie will not be striking out 14 kids and he'll be pitching to contact and that's what happened the kids were on their toes and played really well for the most part in the field."

Woods was very impressive throughout the afternoon. He went the distance giving up two earned runs on four hits while walking one, hitting a batter and striking out four. Of his 21 outs, 11 came on groundballs which didn't include two infield errors.

"He's not overpowering and he's got that curveball that he throws in there and throws people off," said Caira. "He was real solid today and for a sophomore, he's going to be really good (in the next two years)."

Woods picked up his first victory in his varsity career and is 1-1 on the season.

Trailing 2-0 going to the last of the third, No. 9 hitter Matt Spurr got things going by reaching first on an infield error with the bases empty and one out. Both Evan Raffi and Jimmy Davey walked to load the bases for Mike Curtis, who kept the rally going with a two-run double over the third base bag t score Spur and Raffi. After Jackson Gillis walked to load the bases, Burlington's Evan Camilleri got out of the jam with a strikeout and a fly out.

Wilmington added a run in the third as Brian Cavanaugh singled to center field on a curveball and was sacrificed to second by Jimmy Murphy, but with no one covering third Cavanaugh moved up an extra base. Spurr then singled past third to drive in Cavanaugh with what proved to be the game winning run.

Wilmington then put the game away with three runs in the bottom of the fifth. Curtis started things off with his second double of the day. Gillis moved him to third on a single and Corey Stillings followed with a long fly ball out to right center field which was dropped for a two-base error allowing Curtis to score and Gillis to move to third. Jamie Hill and two batters later Murphy, hit sacrifice flies to score Gillis and Stillings.

"That (inning) was nice," said Caira. "I mixed the batting order up a bit and it came around in the right spots and the kids did a nice job of putting the bat on the ball. That was big. We had two doubles and the kid dropped the ball in center field on Corey's hit so it was good to get the bats going."

On the day Curtis was 2-for-4 with two doubles and two RBI, while Gillis was 2-for-3 and Spurr reach base on three at bats including a RBI single and a walk.

On Monday, Wilmington was defeated by Melrose, 4-2. Curtis went the distance on the mound giving up four runs on eight hits while not issuing a walk and striking out five. The bats were kept relatively quiet with just five hits coming from Curtis, Gillis and Cavanaugh.

Wilmington resident Conor Peterson, 10 years old who attends the West Intermediate School, won a contest at Walgreen's in Wilmington an an honorary captain for the Boston Bruins during their game against the Philadelphia Flyers back on April 5th. Peterson, shown here between Bruins players Patrice Bergeron (left) and Zdeno Chara (right) during the National Anthem, was asked by Bergeron "Are you having fun yet?". After Peterson left the ice, equipment manager Keith Robinson, a graduate of Tewksbury Memorial High School, took Conor's helmet and had it signed by the entire Bruins team. You can surely bet that Peterson was cheering very hard for Bergeron, Chara and the rest of the Bruins on Wednesday night when they took on the Canadiens in Game 7 of the semi-finals back on the same ice in which Peterson stood tall. Girls face iron of the league

Boys Tennis team needs to win three of last four

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent
sports@yourtowncrier.com

With four matches remaining in the season for the Wilmington High Boys Tennis team, the mission before them is clear. With a 6-8 record to this point in the season after suffering two losses this past week to Middlesex League powerhouses, the Wildcats must win at least three of the four matches in order to qualify for the post season berth that they have fallen one win short of for the past two seasons.

After dropping a 5-0 decision to Winchester last Thursday and falling by a 4-1 score to Burlington on Monday, the Wildcats will look to get back on track and secure a spot in the post season starting Wednesday when they travel to Melrose, followed by a road match at Wakefield and home matches against Stoneham on Monday and Watertown on Tuesday.

"The good news is that we are 6-8, but we have four matches left against teams that we can compete with," Wildcats coach Rob Mailey said on Tuesday night. "Crunch time starts tomorrow against Melrose. We lost 4-1 to them the last time we faced them, but three of the matches went to three sets and I felt like we had a chance to win. I also feel like we are a better team now than we were back then."

While the Wildcats were competitive in their first match against Melrose, they were even better against Wakefield, Stoneham and Watertown, winning each of their first matches against those teams.

"If we can stay positive and work on our game we will be ready for what lies ahead and I think we can do well," Mailey said. "These are matches that we can win, but we have to take it one match at a time against these teams."

The Wildcats will be looking for better results than they got this past week against Winchester and Burlington, but even in those matches Mailey felt that his team played pretty well, but were simply overmatches against the class of the Middlesex League.

In the 4-1 loss to Burlington, the lone win of the day for the Wildcats came in second doubles where the duo of Alex Neville and Adam Coccoluto defeated Brett Barnard and Shivesh Shah, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

"They played really well," Mailey said. "It was anybody's game in the third set but our guys just brought their game to a higher level. It is not often we are able to get points against Burlington, so I was very proud of the way they stepped up."

In their singles matches the Wildcats played well, but were unable to take many points against Burlington as Scott Barrett beat Wilmington's Justin Wright, 6-1, 6-0, Yash Kamani downed Robbie Mailey, 6-2, 6-2 and Cam Minutti beat Jonathan MacKinnon, 6-0, 6-3.

In the Wildcats other doubles match Burlington's Billy Parrott and Ansh Bhammar came out on top of Mike Diorio & Chris Saporito by a score of 6-1, 6-3.

"Burlington is undefeated in the Middlesex Freedom just like they were last year so we knew what we were up against," Mailey said. "But I thought we played pretty well. The match scores did not indicate how close we were in some of the singles matches."

GIRLS TENNIS

The Wilmington High Girls Tennis team also ran into the buzz saws that are the Winchester and Burlington Tennis teams this past week, losing 5-0 to Winchester last Thursday and 4-1 to Burlington on Monday.

Like their male counterparts, the Wildcats also got their only win of the match in second doubles with Sam Worob and Bridget Cadagan defeating Ally Oliver and Sam Kakulargos, 6-3, 7-6 (7-5), the victory being the first ever varsity win for Cadagan.

"They were in complete control in the first set," Wildcats coach Matt Hackett said. "The second set was a total see saw battle, back and forth the whole way. They were down 6-5, but forced the tiebreaker so that was nice to see.

"Nothing seems to rattle Sam and Bridget. They were the perfect combination to have out there in a match like that on a hot day in a close match."

In their singles matches the Wildcats were unable to win a set. With senior captain and number one singles player Sophie Serna still sidelined with an injury, everybody was forced to move up one slot in the lineup, not an task against a team as talented as Burlington.

In first singles Ada Wiggins beat Erin Hurley, 6-0, 6-0, while in second singles Eleni Pesiridis downed Samantha Maragioglio, 6-2, 6-1, and in third singles Anjali Sereeram beat Christina D'Ambrosio, 6-0, 6-0.

Burlington was just very good. Their number one singles player is ranked in New England and for Sammy it was just her third time playing in second singles and it was a very tough matchup. As for third singles, Christina played a girl that even their coach admitted should have been playing in second singles.

Burlington also came out on top in third singles with Tori Condon and Lauren Carlson defeating Jess Nussbaum and Rachel Cummings, 6-2, 6-0.

The results were similar against Winchester, with the Wildcats unable to win a set against their powerful opponents.

"That can be an intimidating place to play," Hackett said. "They've got 15 clay courts and stadium seating, so it can be intimidating your first time playing there, which it was for a lot of our players."

One player who was not intimidated was senior captain Erin Hurley. Despite dropping her match to Sarah Lee by a score of 6-3, 6-2, Hackett was very impressed with how well she played.

"I have never seen Erin play as well as she played against Winchester. I could not have been prouder of her," Hackett said. "That was just a textbook performance of how to play against someone with more experience. She played flawlessly. She had very few unforced errors.

"You could even tell that the parents from Winchester were taking note of how well she was playing. For her to go into Winchester, playing on a clay court in that environment was very impressive."

In second singles, Wildcats freshman Samantha Maragioglio also played well despite losing 6-3, 6-3 to Winchester's Izzy Bruno.

"Sammy hung in there and played very well at times," Hackett said. "What it comes down to for her is just consistency. The more she plays at this high level, the better she will get. It is tough for us to have Sophie out of our lineup, but it has moved Sammy up in our lineup and it is always good for a freshman to get some experience like that."

BOYS LACROSSE

From the start of the season, Wilmington High Boys Lacrosse coach Fran Peters has stressed that his team would continue to get better as the season progressed, and with their play as of late the Wildcats are making their first year coach look prophetic.

The latest example of their improved play came this week when they picked up their second win of the season with a 10-9 win over Arlington on Monday afternoon. That win followed a 13-8 loss to Watertown last Friday in another game where they played much better than they had earlier in the season.

"Our team is playing a whole lot better," Peters said. "In our last three games we are 1-2, but we are playing a lot better. I am confident that we can come out against Stoneham (Wednesday) and get a win."

Against Arlington the Wildcats got five goals from team leading scorer Matt Penney, and two from Scott Manganelli, while Joey Marino, Rob Fullerton and Scott DeFuria had one tally each as the Wildcats took a 10-7 fourth quarter lead and held off a late Arlington charge.

"Defensively we continue to play well," Peters said. "We played a great game against Watertown on Friday, and we carried that over to this game. I thought Watertown was our best game of the season until the Arlington game.

"Arlington is struggling a little this year just like we are, so we knew it would be a tough battle that we had a chance to win. I think they thought we would be an easy win, but I was glad we proved them otherwise."

In the loss to Watertown, the Wildcats got goals from Penney, who had three, along with two from Fullerton and one each from Marino, Chris Pennie and Steve DeFuria.

SOFTBALL

The Wilmington High School Softball team fell to 2-11 on the season with three losses this past week to Winchester 6-5, Melrose 13-1 and Whittier Tech 7-5 in 8 innings.

In the loss to Winchester, the Wildcats trailed 3-0 before slowly coming back behind some solid defensive plays including Cassie Grasso on two different occasions, the first on a diving catch to end an inning and then she made a double play with a fly ball catch before throwing out the running at home who was trying to tag from third.

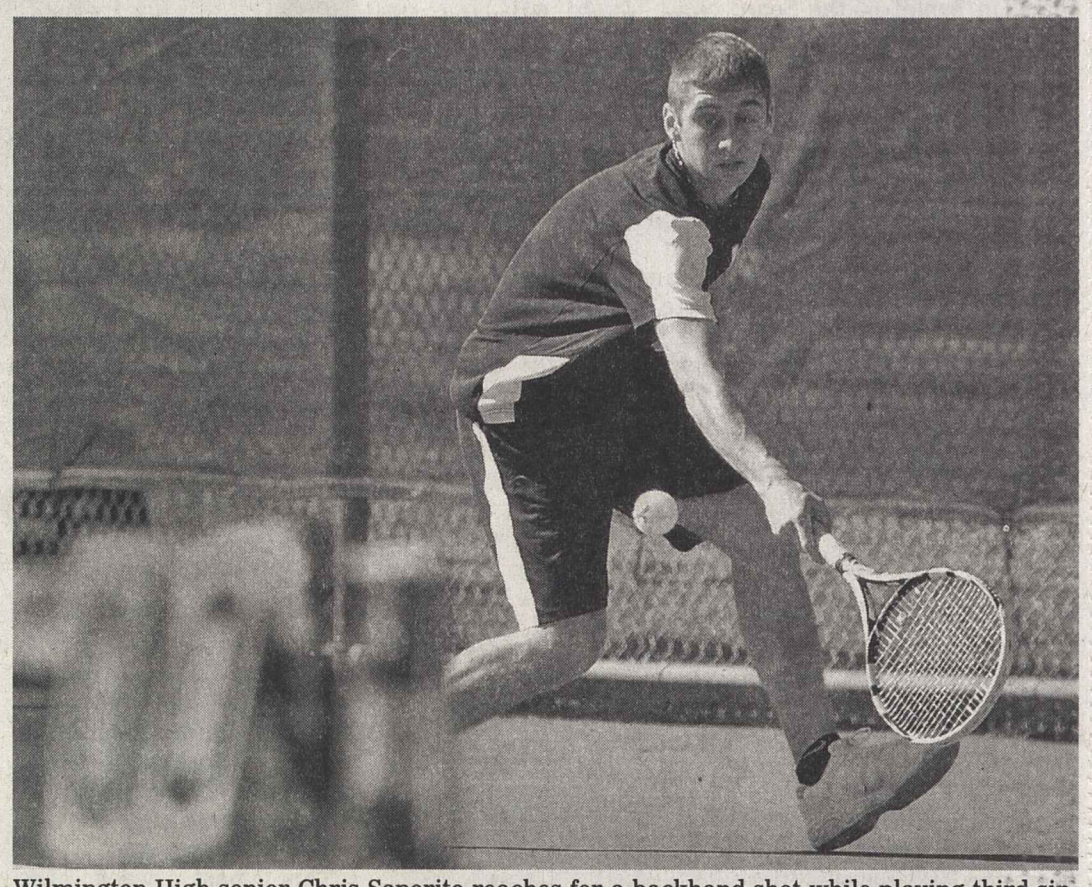

Grasso provided the lone run with a solo home run in the loss to Melrose.

Then on Tuesday night, freshman Jen Dovido pitched the complete game as the teams went back-and-forth in a terrific non-league battle played at Aprile Field. Whittier led 3-0 until Wilmington tied the game with three runs of its own in the fourth. The game was then tied at 5-5 and Wilmington stranded the game winning run at third in the bottom of the seventh. Then in the eighth Whittier scored two runs and Wilmington again left two more runners on base with a fly ball out to end the threat.

dominately played at 7, he said.

Wilmington High Boys Coach Joe Maiella acknowledged last week in an email that this wasn't official, but said if and when it does, he's all for it.

"I am 100 percent for it," he said. "It definitely increases attendance at both boys and girls games and creates more excitement at the games. I also like the fact of both teams supporting one another."

Speaking of WHS Boys Hoop, the Town Crier would like to extend its best wishes James O'Regan, a current three-sport athlete at WHS, has elected to transfer to Buckingham Browne and Nichols about a month ago (but we waited to report it). He will leave a huge vacancy with the football, basketball and track programs but we wish him nothing but the best.

Track teams fall in very close league meets

By JAMIE POTE

Jamiepote@hotmail.com

Heading into last week's big meet against Burlington, the WHS Boys Track-and-Field team already was at a slight disadvantage not javing junior versatile guy James O'Regan in the line-up as he was out with a sprained ankle. The team would need to replace his 15 points and although many kids stepped up in his absence, Burlington was able to take the meet at 76-60 and take the Middlesex League Division 2 Championship.

"The other kids rose to the occasion and competed at a high level, even without James," said head coach Mike Kinney. "The meet came down to the second to last event and decided the league championship which Burlington has won for three consecutive years."

Wilmington had a handful of multiple place finishers but only Eli Jennings won both of his events, taking the shot put (49-6) and the discus (143-7). Joe Gaudreau was first in the 100 (11.5) and second in the 200 (23.5), while Connor Bennett was first in the high jump (5-11) and second in the long jump (19-4.25).

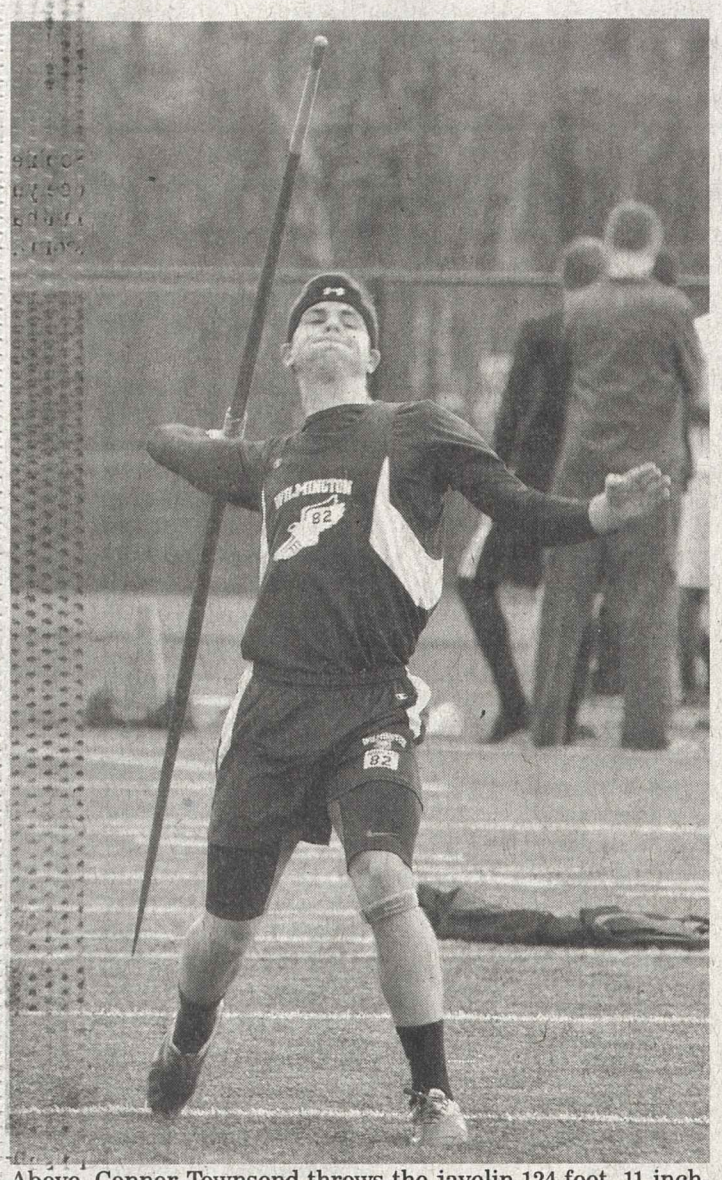

Ben Rohleder was tops in the 110-meter hurdles (16.4) and third in the high jump (5-9), while Jon Weaver was second in the discus (125-0) and Connor Towsend took two third places in the 200 (24.2) and javelin (138-1).

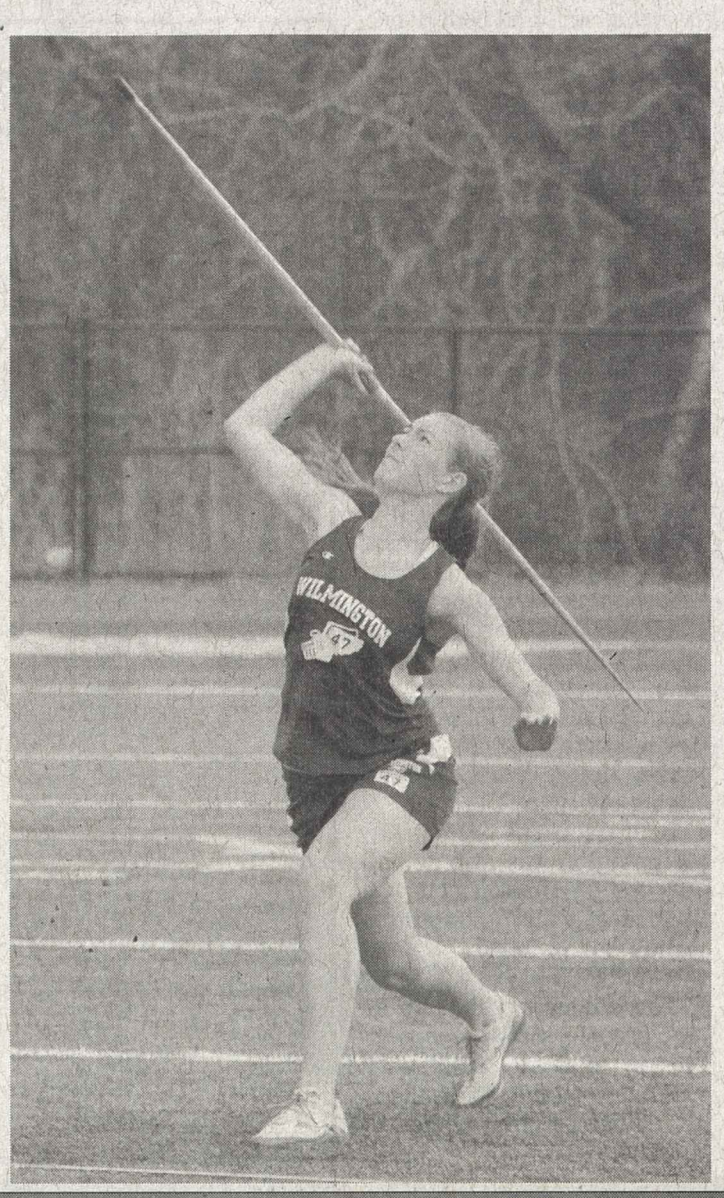

Also the 4x100 relay team of Evan Sperlinga, Deven Langenfeld, Dan Bell and Townsend won their race with a combined time of 46.5 seconds.

Other second places were earned by Colin Chase in the 400-meter hurdles (61.5), Kyle Souza in the 400 (52.9) and Alex Pizette in the two mile (10:26.8), while third places were taken by Jared Walsh in the mile (4:40.1), Nathan Vince in the triple jump (38-2) and Sperlinga in the 100 (11.7).

Then on Tuesday, Wilmington closed out its regular season with a win over Stoneham by a score of 82-54, to finish at 4-1 on the season.

Again Jennings was the lone person to take two events doing so again in the shot put (45-9) and discus (134-8). Weaver was right behind him taking second in both events at 40-6 and 134-8, respectively. Gaudreau continued his hot streak as the freshman was first in the 200 (23.6) and second in the 100 (11.7), while Bennett grabbed two second places in the long jump (18-5) and high jump (5-0).

Above, Connor Townsend throws the javelin 124 feet, 11 inches, and to the right, Abby Chase does her best in the same event during recently held track meets.

Also placing in two events included Rohleder with a second in the 110 hurdles (16.5) and a third in the triple jump (37-2), while Ryan Horgan took third places in both the high jump (5-5) and 400 (56.6).

Other first places were earned by Steve Layon in the javelin (148-11), Avery Woodbury in the two mile (11:07), Jared Walsh in the mile (4:10), Alex Pizette in the 800 (2:07.5) and the 4x100 and 4x400 relay teams with combined times of 46.0 and 3:56, respectively.

The 4x100 team consisted of Sperlinga, Langenfeld, Bell and Townsend and the 4x400 team consisted of Townsend, Souza, Horgan and Chase.

Rounding out the scoring inclided second places from Chase in the 400 hurdles (61.1), Chris Maienza in the two mile (11:09), Sperlinga in the 100 (11.6), Craig Smith in the mile (4:54), Townsend in the 400 (54.3), while third places were earned by Craig Venezia in the 200 (24.9), Conor Bailey in the two mile (11:16) and Kevin Goncalves in the 800 (2:15.4).

On Saturday, Wilmington participated in the annual Andover Booster's Meet. Jennings won the discus with a personal best throw of 159-9, which was three inches off the meet record. He also placed fourth in the shot put throwing 50-01.50. Steve Layon placed sixth in the javelin throwing 145-09.

GIRLS TRACK

The Wilmington High School Girls Track-and-Field team closes out its regular season on Tuesday with a back-and-forth exciting meet which came down to the wire. But Wilmington fell just short, losing to Stoneham 69-67 to end the Middlesex League season with a 2-4 record.

"The girls have been working hard all season and have seen some unbelievable results," said head coach Brie Karow. "Athletes have improved by feet in throws and jumps and have cut times, not by seconds, but by minutes on the track. For many of them, it has been by several minutes.

"We have fallen short score wise in a few meets this season, but we certainly have not fallen short in terms of girls achieving and/or breaking personal bests. I am extremely proud of all of them and can't wait to see what else they can and will do."

Leading the way individually included Amber Peach, Kaitlyn Cowden and Alex Bischoff who combined for 31 of the team's points. Peach won the 400-meter hurdles (71.42) and was second in both the 100 hurdles (17.0) and triple jump (32-50). Cowden was tops at both the discus (101-05) and shot put (30-11) and Bischoff won both the 400 (62.1) and javelin (90-3).

Other first place came from Julia Gake in the 800 (2:27.0) as well as the 4x100 (55.4) and 4x400 (4:25) relay teams.

Second places were earned by Vicki Lee in the long jump (14-11.25), Abby Chase in the high jump (4-3), Siobhan Turner in the 100 (13.6), Kelly Hartsough in the 800 (2:27.0) and Nicole Romanzo in the two mile (13:37.9).

The difference in the meet came down to third places as Stoneham outscored Wilmington 12-1 as Jackie Ryan earned the lone point for the Wildcats in as she finished the mile at a time of 6:11.84.

On Saturday the team participated in the annual Andover Booster's Meet. Cowden finished second in the discus (101-09) and 9th in the shot put (32-07.50), Bischoff was 8th in the 400 (1:01.66) and the 4x400 relay team was also 8th at 4:16.87.

WHS Girls Lacrosse team falls to Peabody

Lady 'Cats still searching for second victory

By BRENDAN FOLEY
Sports Correspondent

BrendanMFoley@Outlook.com

WILMINGTON – The struggles continued for the Wilmington High School Girls Lacrosse team on Monday night. The Wildcats were defeated by Peabody 18-10 in a non-league game played at Alumni Field, and the loss puts Wilmington at 1-11-1 overall.

Despite the loss, second-year head coach Sarah Simpson is heartened by what she views as the team's increasing talent and team chemistry. After losing 12 seniors from last year's state tournament team, Simpson knew that the 2014 season would be focused on introducing fresh faces to the rigors of the game.

"I think sometimes with this team, because they are such a young team, it can come down to the little things," Simpson said. "Ground balls, keeping the ball on the stick, obviously you need to hold onto the ball to do anything with it. We're working on it every day in practice."

A major guiding hand for the young team is senior Rachel Mara, who proved to be a major force on Monday night. Mara scored the Wildcats' first goal with 16:57 left to play in the first half.

Mara would continue to be a huge presence throughout the game, displaying great chemistry with fellow senior Caroline Robarge, as the two fed the ball back-and-forth to notch more points in the effort.

"(Mara's) always blowing my mind," Simpson said. "She's great."

While Mara and Robarge led the charge, underclassmen such as sophomores Ashley Warren and Moesha Jane Beray made major impressions during their time on the field. Beray won multiple face-offs, continuously delivering the ball into Wildcat control for the offensive effort.

Warren, meanwhile, drove to the net again and again, battering the Peabody defense and goalie with shot after shot. Warren's efforts finally paid off with 16:53 left in the second half, as she fired a shot right by the Peabody goalie and secured her first goal of the game.

Less than three minutes later, she struck again, blasting another point into the net with 13:45 left to play.

Warren's success impressed Simpson, who marveled at Warren's ability to immediately assume a prominent place on the team so early in her high school career.

"She's made some huge strides for the team this year," Simpson said.

While the offense was sure to make themselves heard throughout the game, it was from the team's defense that Simpson drew the most pride. While Peabody streaked across the field in the early minutes, accumulating costly early points, the Wildcats quickly found their pace and played man-to-man defense with such aggressiveness, their opponents often seemed baffled about where to try and make a play.

"Peabody had a really quick team, and we were able to defend them and keep up with their speed," Simpson said. "We played a nice tight defense, and I got everything out of my defense that I had anticipated."

Instrumental in that defense was junior Nicole McIrney, keeping constant pressure on Peabody's offense, while seeking out opportunities to break loose and get the Wildcats' own offense rolling down the field.

"Nicole's a great transitional player," Simpson said. "She can play defense really well, and play offense really well. She can wear many hats, and it's always great to have players like that on your team."

Sadly, despite the best efforts of the entire team, Peabody continued to find weak spots and rack up consecutive goals.

While disappointed with the result, Simpson understood that the focus should be on pushing the team forward in skill and confidence, qualities which are not always reflected on the scoreboard.

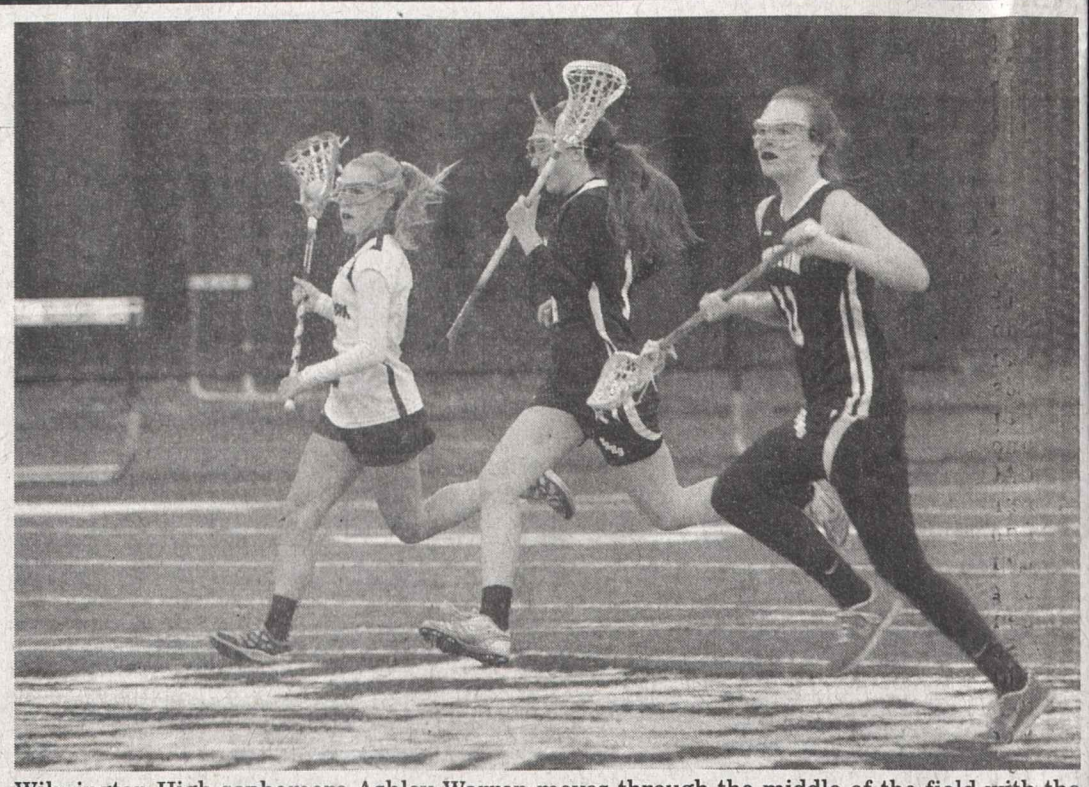

"I think this was one of our best games all season," Simpson said. "We have a really young team so they're still learning each other's strengths and weaknesses. But I was really happy with the outcome of it. We had never played Peabody before and going into it, I was a little nervous, a little hesitant. But I think defensively we had a great game."

With only two games left in the season, the girls lacrosse team is primed to finish the season on a strong note.

"At this point in our season, it all comes down to having fun," Simpson said. "I want to make sure the girls end on a high note and have a good time doing what they're doing out there."

Before the loss to Peabody, Wilmington was also defeated by Arlington (19-12), Winchester (19-7), Hamilton-Wenham (14-9) and Wakefield (13-11).

The Wildcats will wrap up its season with home contests against Tewksbury Monday night and North Reading next Wednesday.

Rams Baseball team still searching for a post-season bid

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com

The great season of the Shawsheen Tech Baseball team hit a bump in the road this past week, and while the Rams still sport a very impressive 9-5 overall (8-2 CAC Large) record they remain one win shy of qualifying for the state tournament after dropping a pair of game to very good opponents.

Shawsheen started its week with an 11-4 non-league loss to Arlington Catholic last Wednesday before coming up short in a hard fought CAC Large battle with Whittier on Monday afternoon, falling by a score of 6-3.

In their Monday battle against Whittier the Rams jumped out to a 2-0 second inning lead on a two run home run by junior Anthony Bova, but they were unable to hold off the Wildcats who took advantage of some key Shawsheen errors in the fourth and fifth innings to take a 5-2 lead.

Bova led the way offensively for the Rams going 2-for-3 with a double to go along with his two run blast, while sophomore Brendan O'Flaherty of Wilmington was 1-for-3 with a double and a run scored.

In their 11-4 loss to Arlington Catholic it was another sophomore Andy Diranian, who led the Rams offensively, going 3-for-3 with two doubles, and RBI and a run scored.

"Andy had a solid game for us at the plate," Shawsheen coach Brian McCarthy said. "We are still hitting the ball well and are getting contributions from a number of players throughout the lineup."

It was the Rams second loss this season to AC, having dropped a 9-3 decision to them earlier this season. While the Rams have been unable to solve their non-league rivals from the Catholic Central Large, McCarthy likes to see his team match up against such quality competition.

"AC is a very good ball club, they are the complete package. They hit, they pitch, they field and they do it all well," McCarthy said. "They play in a tough league and are doing well in it this year as usual. That's why I like playing them, because you know you're going up against a good team year in and year out."

Senior Tom Welch had a good day on the mound for the Rams, coming on in the third inning and shutting down AC.

"Tom did a good job for us, however it was too little, too late at that point for our team," McCarthy said. "We dug ourselves too big of a hole to get out of and couldn't muster together enough offense to get back in the game."

The Rams will look to pick up the win they need for a state tournament berth on Thursday when they take on Mystic Valley in a road game before traveling to Pope John on Friday.

BOYS LACROSSE

The Shawsheen Boys Lacrosse team inched closer to a state tournament berth of their own this past week, picking up a pair of CAC wins to improve to 8-6 on the season.

The Rams got their week started with a 12-3 rout of Nashoba Tech on Monday, led by three goals and three assists by junior attack Tom Avtgis and followed that up with another big win on Monday afternoon at home, downing North Shore Essex Aggie by a score of 11-8.

In the win over North Shore it was once again Avtgis who led the way offensively, with four goals and three assists, while sophomore attack Jack Stone had two goals and Zach DeLuca had a goal and two assists.

Junior goalie Kevin Vacca made 12 saves and was huge for the Rams down the stretch as he helped hold off a late North Shore rally while Shawsheen was down two men.

The Rams will look to lock down a tournament spot starting Wednesday when they travel to Greater Lowell for key CAC matchup before hitting the road to take on non-league rival Medford next Monday.

GIRLS LACROSSE

With three games left in the season the Shawsheen Girls Lacrosse team is still very much alive for a state tournament berth as they are 5-5-1 on the season after going 1-1 this past week with a win over North Shore last Wednesday and a loss to Austin Prep on Thursday.

In the win over North Shore the Lady Rams road a balanced attack and some fine goaltending to a 7-6 victory. Wilmington residents Rachel and Kaitlyn McLaren each had big games for Shawsheen with two goals each, Alisha Shidaki and Tewksbury residents Skylar Jacques and Michelle Farraher had one goal each and Kerin O'Hearn made six saves in net.

In their 13-6 loss to Austin Prep on Thursday, it was senior Rachel McLaren leading the way for the Lady Rams with three goals, while Meg Ferguson added a pair of her own.

Shawsheen has three big games this week that will determine whether or not they qualify for the post season, starting on Friday when they host Haverhill, followed by two more home games against Salem on Saturday and Dracut on Monday.

SOFTBALL

It was a rough week for the Shawsheen Softball team who were 0-3 on the week to drop to 6-7 overall on the season, setting them up for a very big week of games this week in order to get themselves back in position for a state tournament berth.

Shawsheen's best game of the week came in their most recent contest, a 2-1 loss to North Shore on Monday. Lady Rams junior pitcher Kerri Hegarty of Tewksbury pitched one of her best games of the season for Shawsheen, going the distance and giving up just one earned run on seven hits and one walk.

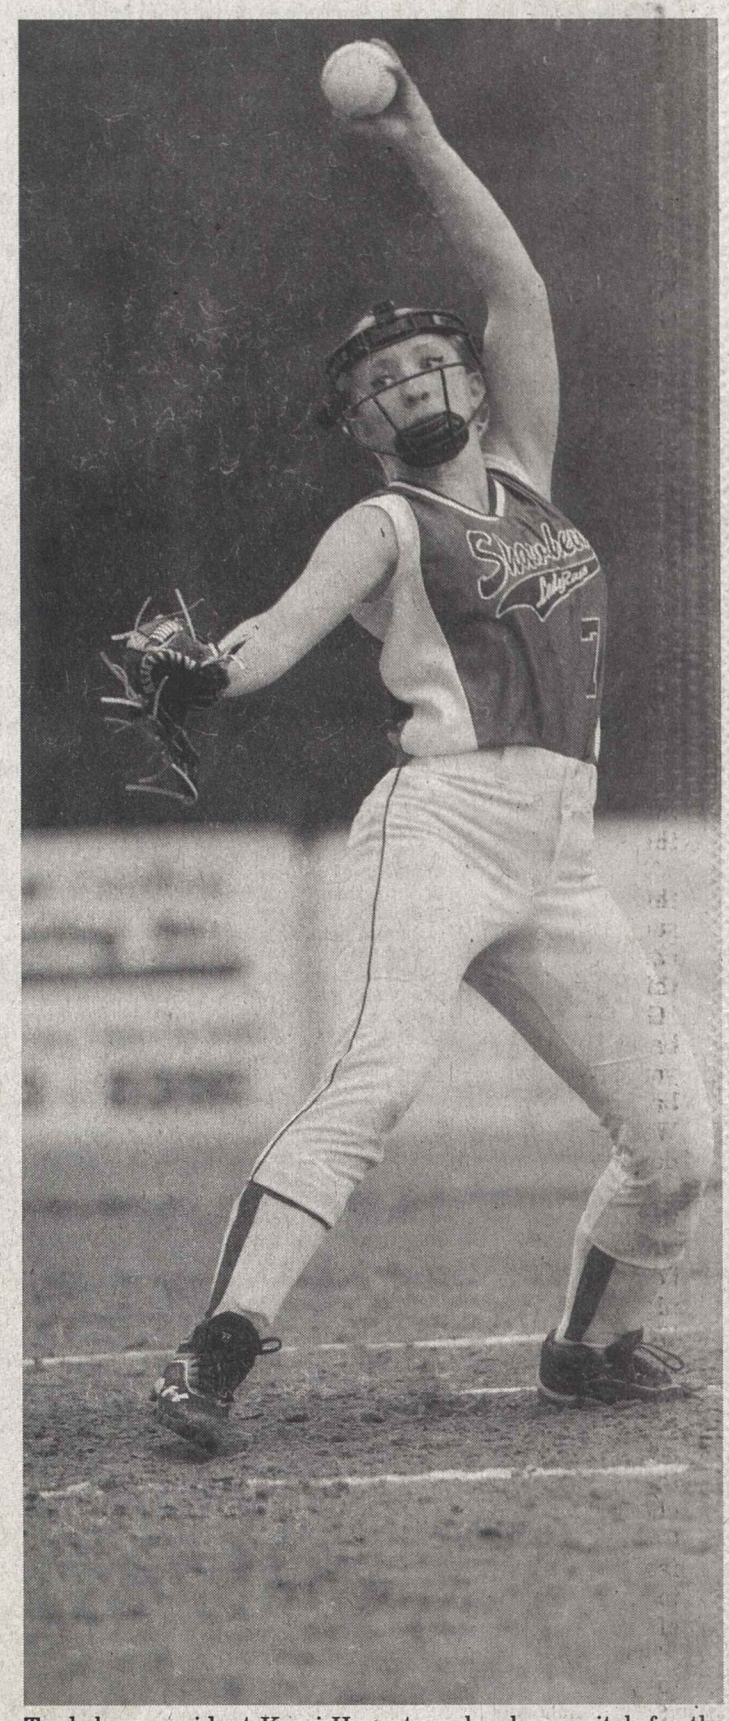

The Lady Rams were unable to get anything going offensively, however, falling into a 2-0 hole after five innings and coming up short in their comeback bid despite Tewksbury's Danielle Cacciola driving in fellow Tewksbury resident Emily Knoops for Shawsheen's only run.

Things did not go as well for the Lady Rams in their previous two games of the week, as they fell to Notre Dame of Tyngsboro by a score of 10-2 last Thursday and dropped a 15-8 decision to Arlington Catholic last Wednesday.

In the loss to AC the Lady Rams were done in by some sloppy defense, as they made ten errors which undermined a strong offensive effort.

Sophomore Katie Stevens of Tewksbury went 3-for-4 with a run scored and two RBI, while Cacciola went 3-for-3 with a run scored and an RBI and junior Jamie Ray of Tewksbury and freshman Arianna Nicosia of Tewksbury each had two hits for the Lady Rams.

The Lady Rams will look to get on track for a state tournament berth this week starting on Wednesday when they hit the road to take on Fenway before returning home on Thursday to take on Greater Lowell and then hitting the road again against Bishop Fenwick on Sunday.

Notice of Vegetation Management Control Operations

The Town of Wilmington will be selectively spraying herbicides along roadsides within Town owned Rights of Way, pursuant to 333 CMR 11.05-11.07 Rights of Way Management, as defined in the Town's five-year Vegetation Management Plan (VMP) for 2014-2018 and Yearly Operations Plan (YOP) for 2014. This treatment is conducted as a component of an integrated vegetation management program which also utilizes mechanical and natural control techniques to control roadside weeds and invasive vegetation.

Foliar treatments and cut stump applications using herbicides approved for use near sensitive areas will take place between June 2, 2014 and October 24, 2014. The exact time is dependent upon weather conditions and field crew availability. Treatments will be made by Wilmington DPW licensed / certified applicators using the herbicides listed in the Yearly Operations Plan, as referenced on the Wilmington DPW's Tree Division / Vegetation Management website at http://wilmingtonma.gov/Pages/WilmingtonMA_PublicWorks/tree.

Technical questions related to the treatment program, VMP, or YOP may be directed to DPW Operations Manager Jamie Magaldi at 978-658-4481, 115 Andover Street, Wilmington, MA 01887.

Wilmington Youth Soccer highlights

Girls Kindergarden: England vs. Mexico

The air was full of excitement, as the much-anticipated match between England and Mexico commenced. Fantastic ball skills were displayed by Emma Callahan and Skylar Nguyen resulting in a goal by Olivia Saragosa. Mexico kept tremendous pressure on England and it was the defensive play of Cate MacDonald that helped keep the England side in excellent shape.

The crowd roared to their feet when Jesse Santini made some spectacular goal saving and clearing plays that kept England's hopes alive.

Spain vs. Argentina

Argentina's defense was led by Sarah D'Angelo, Macy Savage and Emilia DePlacido. Not, only did they put fear in the Spain but they will be feared by future opponents as well.

It was this team defense that led to counter attacks by Samantha Bolanos, who scored for Argentina. Timely saves by DePlacido and Savage anchored a solid team effort.

Korea vs. Brazil

The crowds gathered at the Shawsheen fields for this back and forth game. The Korea Team led by Summer Sands got the crowd jumping out of their seats. Maeve White and Sofia Khlif led the scoring charge while the great defensive effort of Arianna Fasulo kept the action going.

Boys Kindergarden: Brazil

Brazil's defensive was led by Ethan Briggs. It was this team defense that led to counter attacks by Quinn Stockman and Dylan Grace and ultimately leading to goals scored by Davide Vitale. Great passing by Ryan Archer helped strengthen a solid team effort.

Japan vs. Korea

Top-Notch play kept people watching this game on a very rainy morning. Excellent offensive plays by Japan's Cole Loisel and Owen Wills applied heavy pressure causing Korea to back pedal.

Defensive positioning by John Roofe and Andrew Roya fended off any threat that came thru making it tough for Korea.

Japan was impressive on the offensive side of the ball with great skill being displayed by Owen Wills and John Haggerty leading to goals by Cole Loisel and John Roofe. The defense was also showing their skills today with Andrew Roya keeping the ball out of their zone for much of the game.

Overall a great game with end-to-end action, lots of goals and plenty of dribbling to excite the crowd

England vs. Italy

The crowds gathered at the Shawsheen fields for this back and forth game. The England side led by Ryan Belanger and Owen Mahoney got the crowd jumping out of their seats. Spencer Talbot and Ryan Gray led the scoring charge while the great defensive effort of Colin Dwyer kept the action going.

Girls Grade 1: Argentina vs. U.S.A

USA's defense led by Emma Xavier not only put fear in Argentina but will be feared by future opponents as well. It was this team defense that led to counter attacks by Molly Lydon and ultimately leading to goals scored by Skylar Driscoll, Kayla Mason and Kimberly Kane. Timely saves by Stella Caples helped strengthen a solid team effort.

Germany vs. Italy

The air was full of excitement, as the much-anticipated match between Germany and Italy commenced. Fantastic ball skills were displayed by Alyssa Mahoney and Rebecca Hughes resulting in goals by Kyra Turner and Kierstan Moore.

The midfield and defensive play of Allesandra Delgenio and Gracie Berrier kept Germany in excellent shape. The crowd roared to their feet when Allesandra Delgenio and Gracie Berrier made some spectacular saves.

Showing the heart and perseverance for which it is known, Team Italy played a hard-fought game against Germany, punctuated by many outstanding plays. The defensive team of Eleanor Ragsdale and Megan Mullarky consistently shut down attacks on their goal, while Abigail Mitchell and Lorraina Raposa in the midfield counterattacked relentlessly, keeping the ball on Germany's side of the field.

Skyler Estabrook added offensive punch, and goals by Callie McCauley put Italy on the scoreboard.

Boys Grade 1 Team France:

Team France would not back down from this back and forth match. Goals by Jacob Haubner & Owen Fitzpatrick brought the crowd to a frenzy. A spectacular display of defensive skills was shown by Nicolas Spinosa and Jack Martinson.

In addition the midfield play of Dominic Dicenso and Benjamin Haubner kept constant pressure on the opponents net.

Germany vs. Italy

Nobody stayed home for this action packed game. Germany's Nic Juliano scored getting the crowd jumping out of their seats. Outstanding offense by Vibhush Sivakumar, Corey Taylor and Casey Lanagan led to other goals for Germany.

The flawless defense of Nick DiGiovanni and Zach Guyette provided great protection for Germany's goal.

Korea vs. Argentina

Korea and Argentina played a hard fought game. A strong push by the Korean offense kept the crowd on their feet as shots taken by Axel Erickson and Patrick Maillet missed just wide right of the net.

The team's persistence paid off and late in the second half tallies by Kaleb Molina and Jack Murphy put Korea on the board. Outstanding defensive plays by Andrew Almeda and Damien Carbone suppressed the mighty Argentine offense.

Boutoures continue to provide some relief

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent
sports@yourtowncrier.com

UMass Lowell senior pitcher Nick Boutoures picked up the win for the River Hawks on Sunday in a 3-2 victory over the University of Hartford. Boutoures actually allowed an earned run for the first time in seven appearances in the top of the ninth inning, but when the River Hawks responded with the winning run in the bottom of the ninth the 2010 Wilmington High graduate had his first win of the season to go along with four saves and a 1.72 ERA.

Meanwhile, Wilmington's Leanne Doviak led the Salem State Softball team to a 17-21-1 overall record, including an 8-6 record in the MASCAC.

In her eighth year as head coach of the Vikings, Doviak, the 2010 MASCAC Coach of the Year has an overall record of 178-139-2.

Turning our attention to a pair of local minor league baseball players, Tewksbury's Scott Oberg continued his impressive play as of late with the Tulsa Drillers, the Double-AA affiliate of the Colorado Rockies.

On Saturday, Oberg pitched a perfect inning of relief against the Arkansas Travelers to run his string of scoreless appearances to nine, and on Sunday, despite being roughed up a little for a pair of runs in 1 1/3 innings of work, he did pick up his team leading seventh save of the season.

Oberg has now struck out 11 batters in 14 1/3 innings on the season and sports a 3.14 ERA, although he has an ERA of 1.74 in his last ten appearances.

Stephen Peterson of Wilmington has also been pitching well as of late, having been unscored upon in five of his last six outings for the Brevard County Manatees, the Single-A affiliate of the Milwaukee Brewers. Most recently, Peterson tossed a scoreless inning of relief against the Daytona Cubs last Thursday.

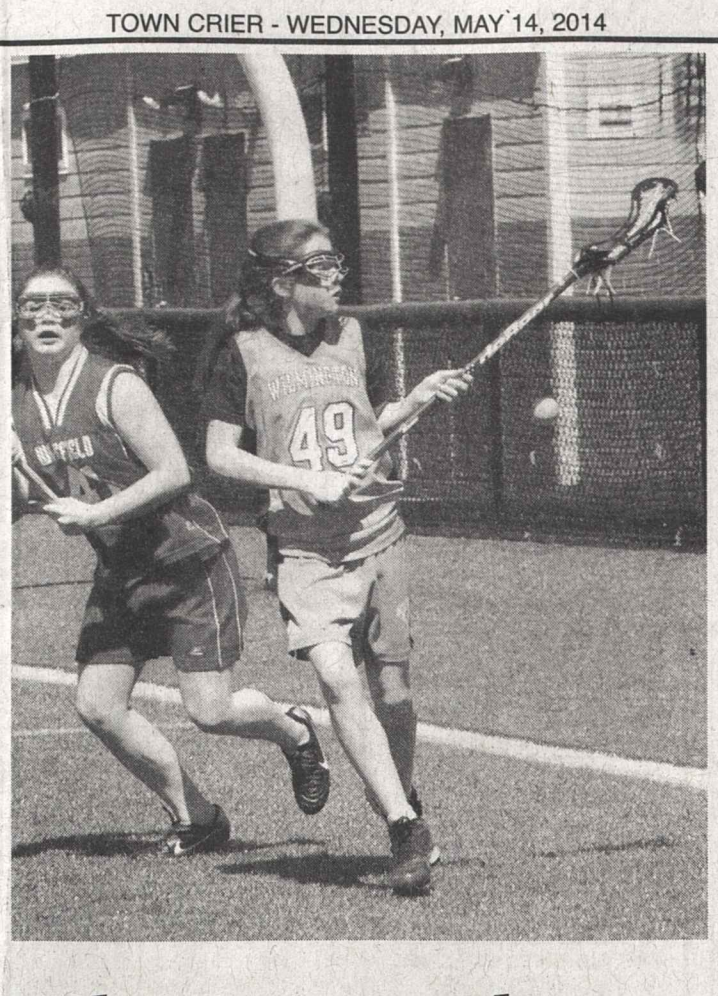

Turning to road races, many locals took part in the "Mystery 5K" held in Lowell, including Katey Sullivan who came across 81st overall at 24:55.

Other Wilmington females include Jessica Weber (104th, 25:51), Heather Travis (299th, 32:39), Robin Kanter (313th, 33:54) and Ashleigh Spagnuolo (372nd, 43:40).

At the "Melrose Run for Women" 5K event, Wilmington residents include: Hannah Holman (25th, 26:17), Amy Fisher (31st, 26:28), Nicole Rosania (241st, 33:29), Joanne Fisher (439th, 38:28), Lindsey Rosania (554th, 41:28), Karen Rosania (559th, 41:36), Katie Haepers (673rd, 45:32) and Nancy Haepers (1,000th, 1:08.22).

At the "Billerica Project" 5K, Wilmington residents include: Stephen Delaney (21st, 27:48), Elizabeth Lawrenson (77th, 35:03), Kerry Piro (91st, 37:32), Ryan Giroux (117th, 47:47), Ellyn Delaney (137th, 52:56), Jennifer Savosik (172nd, 1:02.42), Judy O'Connell (173rd, 1:02.45) and Mary Giroux (187th, 1:07.49).

Finally at the "Mystic Runners Lake Q" 5K in Wakefield, three Wilmington residents competed included Ken McGowan (23:53), Mike Carter (24:50) and Adriana Woods (26:59).

Wilmington Youth Lacrosse weekend summaries

Boys U13 Blue

The Wilmington U13 Wildcats played an exciting home game on a warm Mother's Day afternoon vs Wakefield.

Wakefield came out fast scoring several quick goals and building a commanding first half lead with quick passing and several good offensive plays.

The Wildcats regrouped at halftime and came out flying with a pressure defense up and down the field. Goalie Nick Bruce held the talented Wakefield team to two second half goals as the defense led by Pat McAndrew, Cam Kenyon, Shane Penney and Matthew Pendenza stiffened.

The Wildcats scored six second half goals to climb back into the game. Playing injured, converted midfielder Ryan Martin played attack and led the Wildcats in scoring with a hat trick on the afternoon, his first of the season.

Midfielder Jake Fox ripped a goal from outside of the attack box to start the second half scoring attack.

Midfielders Brian Gallucci, Dan McGaffigan, Conor Rooney and Zach Kincaid also scored key goals to keep the pressure on Wakefield.

Solid second half performances from midfielders Thomas Grecco, Dylan Albert, Pat Xavier, Shane Roberts and Matthew Wright. Attack lines kept the ball moving around a stout Wakefield defense led by Evan Witalisz, Matthew Miller, Jared Benoit, Jose Rojas-James and Danny McConologue. The coaches were proud of the valiant comeback despite the 12-8 loss.

Boys U11 Blue

The Wilmington U11 Blue team had a tough loss against top ranked Wakefield this Sunday. When Wilmington took the field they knew they were in for a challenge.

The hot temperatures on the field threw our Wildcats off their game. First half Goalie Mason Glover made some tough saves but, Chelmsford kept firing shots. Goal scorers Gavin Erickson and Jacob Martins fought hard for one each.

After a hard fought first half Wilmington settled down and came out guns blazing in the 2nd half, but they only found themselves running into a stacked Wakefield defense.

Goalie Matt Vinal had multiple saves between the pipes in the second half and played great. Middies Jack Rooney, Jacob Martins, Nick Vanella, Keegan Gray, Brian Duggan, and Jack Munro had their work cut out for them playing in both offensive and defensive zones.

While the defense of Josh Brandenburg, Tyler Cardello, Dennis McConologue, Tristan DiMeco and Cameron Marzilli made it extremely difficult for Wakefield to score. Wilmington played an outstanding game with great transitions and zone defense but it was not enough in the end.

Both of the Boys U11 Teams will be playing at halftime at the Boston Cannons game at Harvard Stadium this Saturday.

Girls U15 White

Wilmington vs Wakefield

Great effort by all of the girls this weekend especially the two goalies, Raegan Sweeney and Mickey O'Brien.

Fantastic goals scored by Ashley Rooney, Julia Hill, Lauren D'Angelo, Danielle Silva, Mia O'Connell, Tia Woodford and Raegan Sweeney. Very strong offense and defense played by Caroline Rooney, Emma Rhind, Grace Steed, Shailagh Scanlon, Hailey DeJesus, and Gianna Petrucci. Julia Ryan did a great job recovering the ball on many occasions.

Blue Jays top the Angels in terrific Little League game

Single A

Blue Jays 10, Angels 7

For the Blue Jays, good pitching performances were turned in by Patrick Leblanc, Johnny Velozo, and Brian Curdo. Dillon Bloom hit a solid double early in the game to spark the Blue Jays offense, while Ella Cedrone and Dillon McGrath added a couple hits apiece.

For the Angels, Burke Zimmer, Shea Price, and Tommy Gargan were solid on the mound with several strikeouts, while Austin Farrell made some nice plays in the field on the defensive side. The offense was paced by Shane Costello who reached base multiple times scoring 2 of the Angels runs, including a sliding play at the plate in the last inning as the Angels rally fell short.

Diamondbacks 9, Blue Jays 4

Dominic Gabardi, Joey Mclaren and Jack Spencer quieted the Blue Jays bats with their pitching performances. Nathan Alberti Johnny Velozo and Dillon McGrath pitched for the Blue Jays. Jack Spencer had a couple hits for the Dbacks and Dillon McGrath had a nice double for the Blue Jays.

AAA

Royals 14, Blue Jays 9

Evan Witaliz pitched another solid game for the Royals against the Blue Jays at Rotary Park. Andrew Severino and Darren Hamilton also had hits for the Royals.

Greg Adamek turned a double play at third and had a key double for the Jays. Nick Benson pitched three strong innings, had a couple of hits and ran the bases aggressively. Patrick Callahan, Ashton Lowell, Sean Messinger and Ryan Messinger each had key hits for the Jays.

Blue Jays 10, Marlins 9

The AAA Blue Jays dealt the Marlins their first loss of the season in a close game. Great pitching by both teams. For the Blue Jays, Liam Dwyer, Matt DeSario and Tyler Cardello pitched well. Strong pitching from Dylan Timmons and Adam Leblanc for the Marlins. Tyler Rourke also had a solid game at the plate for the Marlins.

Nick Benson and Tyler Cardello crushed the ball to help the Blue Jays score key runs in the game. Ashton Lowell had a walk off hit to win it in the bottom of the fifth.

Majors

Orioles 9, Tigers 2

The Orioles got solid pitching from Kyle Munro, Christian Robarge, and Dom Pedi to beat the Tigers. The Tigrs got on the board first with two runs on a two run double by Bailey Smith. Kevin Palmerino also had a hit for the Tigers. Richie McNamara made several nice plays at SS for the Tigers.

The Oriole bats were led by Colin Sainato and Kyle Munro with two hits each. Other hitters included Tyler Newhouse and Dom Pedi each with a double, and Garrett Alberti. Nico Piazza did a great job at catcher for the Orioles, as well.

Red Sox 4, Orioles 0

Red Sox pitcher Nick Moore threw a complete game no-hitter for the Red Sox. Moore was outstanding on the mound, striking out 12 Oriole batters, while only walking one.

Evan Vachon, Chris Robarge, and Nico Piazza also pitched well for the Orioles, striking out ten Red Sox. Red Sox hitters included Cam Banks, Connor Paquette, and Nick Moore all had hits for the Red Sox. Dave Ings also made a nice catch in left field for the Red Sox.

Orioles 16, Indians 11

The Orioles bats were too much for the Indians in this high scoring game. Orioles hitters included Kyle Munro (3 hits), Chris Robarge (2 hits), Dom Pedi (2 hits), David Fraser, Colin Sainato, Evan Vachon, Garrett Alberti, and Nico Piazza.

The Indians hitters included, Will Lawson (2 hits), James Fisher (2 hits), JJ Thibert, Tommy Baldi, Jake Danielli, Jared Russell, and Matt Morganelli.

Yankees 7, White Sox 6

Riley Fitzgerald delivered a walk off single scoring Tristan Ciampa as the Yankees topped the White Sox 7-6. Ciampa also pitched four strong innings and Jared Venezia pitched the final two innings for the win.

The Yankees pitchers combined for twelve strikeouts. The White Sox pitching combination of Nolan Ricci and A.J. O'Brien struck out nine Yankee batters.

The Yankees had hits from Venezia (3-for-3, two doubles, 3 runs scored), Ciampa (2-for-2, one double, 2 runs scored), Fitzgerald (2-for-3), Matt Ackerman (run), Kyle Vallee (run), Jimmy McCarron, and Ryan Santini.

The White Sox offense was led by Keith MacDonald (3-3, 2 runs scored), Aidan McGrath (1-1, 2 BBs, 3 runs scored), Dean Nally (2-3, one double), and Matt Pendenza (1-1, 1 BB).

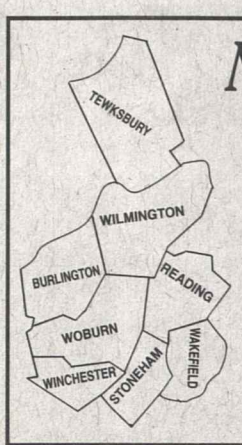

Jr. League

Braves 15, Woburn A's 5

On Tuesday May 6th the Woburn Jr. A's came to the North Intermediate Field to play the Wilmington Jr. Braves in a Middlesex Big Diamond League clash. Behind the stellar pitching of Ryan Maher and Brian Dankese and the strong bats of Kyle Bolis, Matt Wong, Jason Spizuoco, Anthony Celata and Ryan Collins, the Jr. Braves won 15-5.

Ryan Maher gave up just two hits in four innings pitched while striking out four. Brian Dankese came in to pitch the final inning setting the side down in order while striking out one.

The big inning for the Jr. Braves was the fourth, when they sent 19 batters to the plate scoring 13 runs. Ryan Collins got things started with a walk, Sean Devlin and Kyle Bolis also walked to load the bases for Brian Dankese who singled to drive in a run. Calvin Stafford popped out to the first baseman for the first out, then Ryan Maher walked to force in a run. Matt McElligott lost a tough battle striking out for out number two. Paxton Cook and Matt Wong both walked driving in runs, setting the stage for the biggest blow of the inning, a two run double by Anthony Celata. Jason Spizuoco walked to load the bases again, then Robbie Farrell singled to drive in another run. Later in the inning Collins singled to drive in another run.

Youth Soccer highlights

USA vs. Brazil

Brazil was impressive on the offensive side of the ball with great skill being displayed by Nicholas Yamamoto leading to goals by Tommy Lewis, Jackson McDonald and John Pozzi. The defense was also showing their skills today with Derek Sun and Cameron Jenks keeping the ball out of their zone for much of the game.

England vs. Mexico

Goals by Kokoro Shinohara and Zein Kenifar brought the crowd to a frenzy. A spectacular display of defensive skills was shown by Logan Bentley and Tyler Florencio. In addition the midfield play of Manny Gonzalez and Charlie Roy kept constant pressure on the opponents net.

Girls Grade 2

Portugal vs. Brazil

Team Brazil was impressive on the offensive side of the ball with great skill being displayed by Juliana Ragucci and Keira Rice leading to goals by Caroline Jenks and Julia Archer. The defense was also showing their skills with Alexis Melvin and Ava Deoliveira keeping the ball out of their zone, while the goal keeping team of Cheyenne Marchese and Ava Rega kept this game close.

Spain

Excellent offensive plays by Alissa Ganley, Ayla Biscan and Kiera Murphy applied heavy pressure causing team Germany to back pedal. Defensive positioning by Monisha Kathika and Kelci Mackenzie fended off any threat that came thru making it tough for team Germany. Elizabeth Griffith and Maya Mulas also played a great game in net.

USA vs. England

Fantastic ball skill were displayed by Emma Diorio and Lexi Engvaldsen resulting in goals by Carly Thayer and Ashley Mercier.

The midfield and defensive play of Sophia Brisbois, Ellianna Chronopoulos and Ava Kennedy kept the United States in excellent shape. The crowd roared to their feet when Sofia Dinatale made some spectacular saves.

Proving they were World Cup Competitors, Nicole Morello scored for England in this hard fought game. Lauryn Parr, Emerson Glover, Morgan Glover and Alex Lavigne added the offensive punch and Isabella Melaragni, Elizabeth Price and Priscilla Vo held up the defense. It was an outstanding team effort capped off with great goal keeping by Alyssa Stack and Riley Rourke.

Boys Grade 2

USA vs. England

Great skill displayed by Alex Kennedy, Kevin Stano and Evan Woltag leading to goals by Ryan Sweeney. The defense was also showing their skills today with Patrick Hounsell, Aidan Guyette and Ben Marvin keeping the ball out of their zone for much of the game, while the goal keeping team of Charlie Rosa and Julien Cella was terrific.

Portugal vs. Spain

Fantastic ball skill were displayed by Jimmy Bimbo, Jacob Breitenbach, and Jake Bourgeois resulting in goals by Ryan Murphy, Daniel Lagunilla and Remy Elliott. The midfield and defensive play of Christian Carpinella, Zach Rogers and Ryan Parizeau kept the Portugal Team in excellent shape. Zach Rogers and Remy Elliott made some spectacular saves.

Proving they were also World Cup Competitors - Jonathan Foresyth and Matthew Doherty scored for Spain in this hard fought game, Ethan Kennedy, Nick Iascone and Andrew Maiella added the offensive punch and Brian Banks, Matthew Mozach and Braeden White held up the defense. It was an outstanding team effort capped off with great goal keeping by Michael McCarthy and Benjamin Wright.

Kids from preschool through 6th grade can participate in the 9th annual Pan Mass Challenge Wilmington-Andover Kids Bike Ride this Sunday, May 18th, from 9am-noon. The ride will be headquartered at the Boutwell Early Childhood Center on Carter Lane in Wilmington. Registration is $15, and another $25 fundraising minimum are required for all riders.

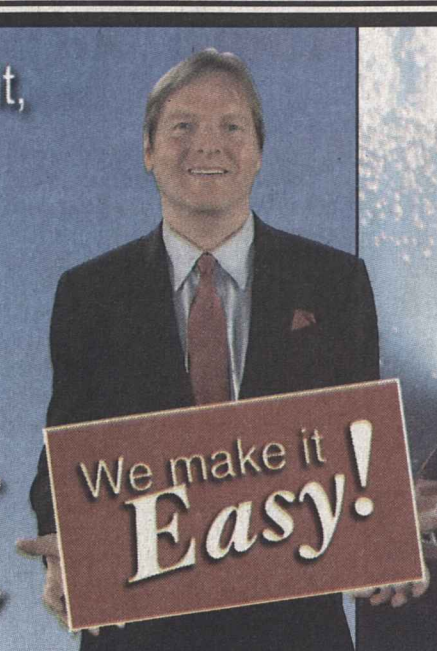

On Saturday, May 17th, from 9am-11am, a special pre-registration/goodie bag pick up day will be held at the Boutwell School. You can register for the ride or pick up your event goodie bag if already registered. Bring your bike for a pre-ride tune up and spin around the bike safety course sponsored by Wilmington Cub Scout Pack 136!

Go to www.kids.pmc.org and click on the Wilmington-Andover Ride to register today!

Pop Culture Expo in Wilmington at Shriners Auditorium May 24th and 25th

By PAUL FEELY

Superhero movies dominate the movie theater box office on a regular basis. Production has begun on a seventh 'Star Wars' film, featuring members of the original trilogy. 'Game of Thrones' is one of the most popular shows on television.

To put it mildly, it's a good time to be a geek.

Science fiction and pop culture aficianados will have another reason to rejoice next week, as the Pop Culture Expo descends upon the Aleppo Shriners Auditorium in Wilmington. Organizers expect 20,000 attendees to help actor Ernie Hudson celebrate the 30th Anniversary of the movie 'Ghostbusters' (with the original Ecto-1), along with actors from "Game of Thrones," "Futurama," "Being Human," "Veronica Mars," "Supernatural," plus Pete Best of The Beatles and more.

The event takes place Saturday and Sunday, May 24 & 25, at the Shriners Auditorium, at 99 Fordham Road, Wilmington

The Pop Culture Expo will be the largest Comic-Con experience in New England to date.

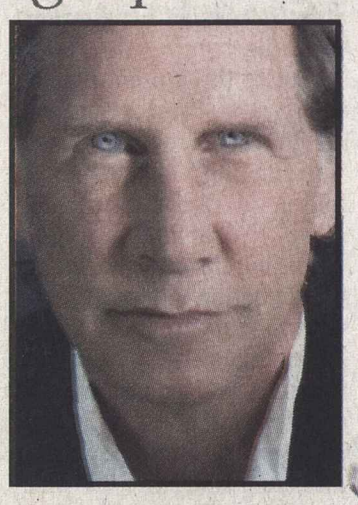

This Fan Convention is produced by Gary Sohmers, who created and produced the successful Collectibles Extravaganzas in the 20th century, and he brings new technology to enhance the event, and relieve the long lines of fans waiting for autographs. Gary is also well known as the appraiser of Pop Culture for 13 seasons on the PBS TV program "Antiques Roadshow," along with producing over 1000 concerts and 150 consumer/fan events like this.

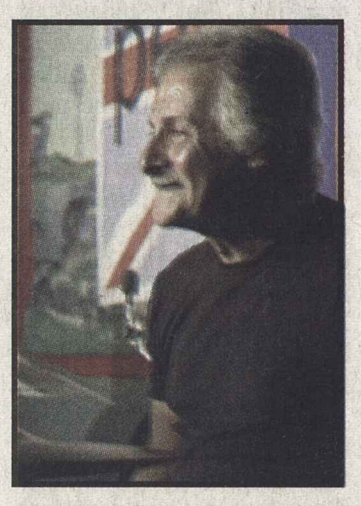

"Have you ever watched the show 'The Big Bang Theory' on television? That's the type of crowd we are going for," said Sohmers. "I attend ComicCon in San Diego all the time, and that has grown into such a huge event that Hollywood sends actors, directors, and crews there to interact with fans and break news about new projects. I want to bring a little of the West Coast to Wilmington for this event."

Celebrities expected to attend include Pete Best of The Beatles, Kristian Nairn and Esme Bianco of "Game of Thrones," Sam Huntington of "Being Human" and "Veronica Mars," Alaina Huffman of "Supernatural," Billy West of "Futurama," John Ratzenberger of "Cheers' and "Toy Story 1, 2 & 3," Rae Dawn Chong, Mark Goddard of "Lost in Space," Ernie Hudson of "Ghostbusters," John Provost of "Lassie," Parker Stevenson of "Hardy Boys," Deep Roy of "Dr. Who," "Star Wars" and "Willie Wonka," Tom Wayland of "Pokemon," Rachel Robinson "Final Fantasy," Christopher Bevins of "Draginball Z," Leah Cevoli of "Robot Chicken," Danielle Mackey of "King of the Nerds," Mike C. Manning of "Disney's Cloud 9," Casey Desmond "The Voice," Kadrolsaha Ona "Queen of the Paranormal," and more to be announced, along with artists including Ken Kelly, Roger Kastel, Skip Williamson, Howard Cruse, Gary Hallgren and many more.

"There's going to be a little something for everyone here, no matter what aspect of pop culture they are into," said Sohmers.

Celebrity fees for autographs and photos will vary, and will be posted online in advance. Each panel room holds only 150 people. Panels and screenings will be announced in advance on www.PopCultureExpo.com.

Bill Plympton, known for his Couch Gags on "The Simpsons" will be presenting the New England Premiere of his new animated film "Cheatin." The Spike & Mike Festival of Animation will feature "Next Generation" and "Sick & Twisted" screenings.

IMAGE Meet and Greet Personalized Autograph Experiences called "Video Op" will be available to capture the signing of your autograph with video for authentication and to allow the fan to be in the video with the celebrity when they sign the autograph.

"We developed this technology to capture the moment for fans when they are having an item signed by a celebrity," said Sohmers. "It also serves as a way to authenticate the autograph."

Purchasing autographs and tickets in advance is the best way to avoid standing in long lines. Many autograph experiences and panels will sell out in advance.

Each panel room holds

Expo to S-7

ECTO 1 FROM THE THE GHOSTBUSTER'S MOVIE will be on site at the Pop Culture Expo in Wilmington. Also in attendance will be Pete Best (left) of The Beatles, Esme Bianco of 'Game of Thrones (far left) and Parker Stevenson (top).

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"Neighbors"

"NEIGHBORS" may not be a well-thought-out film, but it has some big laughs and is entertaining.

"NEIGHBORS"
GRADE: **

"Neighbors" may not be a particularly well-thought-out film, but it has some of the biggest sustained laughs of the summer.

The plot centers on a married couple, Mac and Katie (Seth Rogen and Rose Byrne, a pairing guaranteed to infuriate women who don't like Rogen). They've got a baby and a house with a mortgage - which means they're worried that they're turning into old people. Which they're not; it's simply the moment when you realize you're an adult, not a kid.

That becomes even clearer when the vacant house next door is sold - to a college fraternity, led by Zac Efron and Dave Franco. It immediately becomes Party Central, and suddenly Mac and Katie find themselves the oldsters yelling, "Hey, turn down that music!" at their younger neighbors. While they try to ingratiate themselves as adults who are hip to the young people, it quickly turns into all-out war.

The young couple starts out by making a genuine effort at neighborliness, but Mac - like so many Rogen characters - is a man whose heart might be in the right place but who also is prone to outbreaks of downright terrible judgment. So that earnest effort to make nice with the boys of Delta Psi Beta? It quickly turns into a feud that escalates to ridiculous, even felonious, proportions, to the detriment of all parties involved - but to audiences' general amusement.

Along the way, there's tons of pot-smoking, beer-swilling, nudity and other type of frat-boy behavior - including scenes I won't even attempt to describe in a family publication such as this. "Neighbors" is not, to put it another way, a movie for the easily offended.

The pranks, the wisecracks, the rudeness – it's all fairly inspired, including the idea of Rogen engaging Efron in a dance-off (and, eventually, a fight). On the other hand, this is a movie that wants us to sympathize with both sides of this squabble – but dramatic structure demands that there's a winner and a loser (and the facts of the case mean that the winner grabs victory by being the biggest jerk).

There are few consequences (including the fact that no one else in this residential neighborhood of closely set houses seems to be bothered by the fraternity's outrageous antics) for either side.

But Rogen and Byrne have a chemistry thata works, and Efron proves that he can handle real comedy by playing straight. It's not great, but it is funny. That excuses a lot.

"THE AMAZING SPIDERMAN 2"
GRADE: **

Like many a sequel, The Amazing Spider-Man 2, the continuation of the 2012 reboot of the comic-book franchise, feels the urge to double-down on action and mayhem. Make that triple-down: The movie introduces not one, not two, but three super-villains, though the last makes his altered appearance only in the final minutes.

Wedged between the frenetic set-pieces is the element that made the first film special: the chemistry of its onscreen and off-screen romantic leads, Andrew Garfield and Emma Stone. Their engaging byplay remains intact.

As you may recall, the first Webb movie opened with young Peter Parker's parents Robert and Mary (Campbell Scott and Embeth Davidtz) leaving the boy with his Uncle Ben and Aunt May (Martin Sheen and Sally Field). The new film shows what happened afterward: a fight aboard a sabotaged plane as Robert Parker tries desperately to transmit a mysterious video file.

Cut to the present day, as the grown Peter (Garfield) delights in his role as masked, web-slinging crime-fighter, foiling a Russian maniac (Paul Giamatti) who's careening through the streets of Manhattan in a truck filled with dangerous cargo. Perhaps he delights too much, since there's an awful lot of carnage left in his wake that he doesn't seem to pay much attention to amidst his wisecracking. But Spider-Man does take a few moments to remove one Max Dillon (Jamie Foxx) from the path of a speeding vehicle—the beginning of a case of hero worship that will have major consequences. Spidey's latest display of derring-do also happens to coincide with his high-school graduation, which he just makes as Peter's name is called.

One thing Peter is not cavalier about is his promise to late NYPD Captain George Stacy that he would protect his daughter Gwen (Stone) by keeping away from her. In fact, it tortures him, since he is still very much in love with his classmate.

But there are two other big plotlines here. First is the fate of Max, an undervalued employee at mammoth Oscorp, who is nearly killed in an industrial accident involving a huge vat of electric eels and transforms into the energy-sucking Electro. A showdown in Times Square leaves him feeling slighted by his onetime idol Spider-Man, whom he now views as an archenemy.

The third thread of the movie is Peter's relationship with his childhood friend Harry Osborn (Dane DeHaan), the son of Richard Parker's onetime business partner, the ruthless Norman Osborn. Harry takes over Oscorp, and soon becomes convinced that the blood of the genetically altered Spider-Man is the antidote to the fatal disease passed down from his father. When Harry is done scheming, he emerges as yet another classic Marvel villain, the Green Goblin.

Spider-Man 2 is filled with confrontations between Spidey and his new nemeses, and the staging, production design and visual effects are impressive, from the shattering of the giant billboards in Times Square to a climactic battle that will be devastating to those who haven't read the comic books.

"The Secret Garden" at Stoneham Theatre

This spring, Stoneham Theatre is proud to present the musical version of the beloved novel The Secret Garden. Written by Frances Hodgson Burnett and originally published in 1911, The Secret Garden has inspired numerous stage and film adaptations. This three-time Tony Award-winning musical boasts a lush score by Lucy Simon and is the perfect theatrical event for the entire family.

The Secret Garden tells the story of Mary Lennox, a young orphan, who is sent to England to live with her reclusive uncle and sickly cousin. When this neglected child discovers an equally neglected garden, she brings life (and a bit of magic) back to both the garden and her uncle's manor.

The Secret Garden opens on May 15, 2014 and runs through June 8, 2014. Performances are Thursdays at 7:30pm; Fridays at 8:00pm; Saturdays at 3:00pm and 8:00pm; and Sundays at 2:00pm.

For more information, or to become a Stoneham Theatre Member, please call the Box Office at (781) 279-2200, or visit www.stonehamtheatre.org.

At George A. Campbell American Legion

"A Night of Blues" for veterans this Saturday

The Blues for Veterans Association (BVA) will host "A Night of Blues" this Saturday May 17, 7 to 11 p.m. at the George A. Campbell American Legion Post 101, 194 Lexington St, in Woburn.

BVA President and Founder, Mike Dever said, "May 17th is Armed Forces Day, a perfect day to bring people together to support our local Veterans."

Committee Member Joe Simas explained, "This will be the third in our series of concerts marching our way to the 2014 Library Park Blues Festival on August 23rd.

At each of our "Night of Blues" we have made donations to organizations that support Our Local Veterans. On May 17th we plan to make another donation, this time to the Edith Nourse Rogers Memorial Veterans Hospital to fund a much needed Craft Program."

"We are pleased to announce that our Headliner for May 17th will be The Brian Templeton Band," stated Bill Murray Band Coordinator. "Brian Templeton was the Master of Ceremonies at the Inaugural Library Park Blues Festival last August and we're thrilled to have him back to entertain you at the American Legion Post 101".

Opening for The Brian Templeton Band with be Pat McManus & Backup Plan Trio including Calvin Williams and Mike McCall.

Pizza will be available for sale compliments of Lisa's Family Pizzeria.

"A Night of Blues" at the American Legion Post 101 is an affordable night out. For just $10 per person you'll be supporting Our Veterans, enjoying incredible music and helping to Keep the Blues Alive!

Recycle used electronics, phones, TVs and more

Paul Medeiros and the Medeiros Crew Recycling Team next collection will be held on Saturday, May 17th from 9 AM to 1 PM at Woburn's Spence Farm located at 41 Wyman Street, in Woburn. Possibly the best part of this program is that it is open to residents from any and all communities, not just Woburn, as well as any and all business entities. With your help these collections have raised over $140,000 dollars for local Woburn organizations with a portion going to the Woburn High School Scholarship Fund! The prices are as follows:

POTATO SACKS AND PIE (BURLINGTON)

"Members of the Burlington July 4th Committee recently received approval from the Board of Selectmen regarding the use of the town common for the numerous events that are set to take place during this year's annual Independence Day parade and festivities," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The board had no issues supporting the events which include a dog show, crafts for kids, potato sack races, 3-legged races, pie eating contests, doll carriage/bike decorating, and wheelbarrow races.

"'There will be various festivities throughout the morning before the parade,' said one of the July 4th Committee members, noting the town common events will start at 9 a.m. and the parade will start at 11 a.m. along Cambridge Street to Winn Street, ending at Memorial School.

"Selectman Michael Runyan, who is a Burlington July 4th Committee member, announced this year's parade will be a special one as retired Fire Chief Herbert Crawford has been named 'Grand Marshal' for the annual event.

"Born in 1923 and raised in Woburn until the end of WWII, Crawford's parents purchased their uncle's farm on Beacon Street where Beacon Village now stands. After serving in the U.S. Army, he worked the farm and became a "call man" for the Burlington Fire Department. In the mid 1950's, he met the love of his life, Burlington native, Mary Plummer; they married soon afterwards. Together they purchased a parcel of land along Lexington Street where they built their home and raised four children - Karen, Brenda, Linda and Mark. Runyan noted that people can still find Crawford there today, along with a note on the door that says, 'Come right in.'...

"All the committee members confirmed the parade route is likely going to run along Cambridge Street and Winn Street. Burlington's State Rep. Ken Gordon will lead a group of youngsters in period-costume from The Burlington Players in a recital of The Declaration of Independence at 10 a.m. People can visit the July 4th Committee web site at www.burlingtonjuly4th.com for additional information, sponsorship, or parade participation forms....

IT'S CURTINS ... (WILMINGTON)

"This month marks the end of an era for Wilmington Community Television (WCTV) as Executive Director Sandra Curtin bids farewell to the non-profit organization she has been a part of for more than two-and-a-half decades," notes the Wilmington edition of the "Town Crier."

"Curtin has given Wilmington residents and civic organizations a voice through WCTV since its establishment by the town of Wilmington in 1987. During her tenure, she served the station in various capacities: executive director, board of directors, producer, editor, and volunteer. She also strived to promote WCTV by working with local organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce, the Town Crier, and the Rotary Club of Wilmington...

"Looking ahead to retirement, Curtin plans to travel and spend time with family. 'My daughter does a lot of traveling for her job and sometimes I tag along. I go with her so often that I have been dubbed 'Sidecar Sandra' when I accompany her.' Immediately after her retirement on May 30, Curtin heads to Boston College to celebrate her 50th reunion.

"'Also, I promised my husband Paul more home cooked meals. We'll see how that works out!'...."

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper or look on line for up-to-date information about your city or town.

We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About the Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, 531 Main St, Reading, MA01867 or to schooltowns@comcast.net.

Horizon Interiors Horizon Interiors Horizon Interiors

Horizon Interiors will provide access to products to complement the design consulting services including flooring, natural stone, and decorative fabric for custom window treatments or upholstery. We offer personalized service that the market desires and can afford in a way that is unique from concept to implementation.

We are focused on developing solid and loyal client relationships offering design solutions based on the client's taste, budget, use and goals for the space. The accessibility of produce, design services, and value-based pricing will differentiate Horizon Interiors from others.

Horizon Interiors is for discerning, quality-conscious clients that seek assistance in their design choices for their primary residences, vacation homes, and businesses. This experience offers personal attention through the design process and also provides design resources and products to its clients through special purchases of flooring, natural stone, fabric, and many more products. The total experience is provided in a way to inform, inspire, and assist people through the process of transforming their home or business environment to become a unique and personalized expression of themselves and add to their enjoyment of that interior space.

Horizon Interiors is the source for client-oriented design services. Clients will be impressed with, and return for, the services they receive and the outcome they have enjoyed. Unlike other interior designers or stores, Horizon Interiors is a pleasant and tasteful resource that encourages everyone in the process of decorating their home.

Unlike using the services of interior decorators, Horizon Interiors allows the individual to participate in their design choices to the extent they choose, and realize greater value for the dollars they invest, to create a personalized and unique impression of their home. The key to our success is referrals from pleased clients that are proud of the result Horizon Interiors provided them and pleased to tell their friends -- people much like them.

The primary keys to success for Horizon Interiors are based on the following factors:

- Provide the highest quality shopping experience possible.
- Sell specially selected products to our clients to further meet their interior design needs.
- Communicate with our client base through the website and personalized communication techniques.
- Retain clients to generate repeat purchases and initiate referrals.

Horizon Interiors LLC is a well established company with over 50 years combined experience in home redecorating.

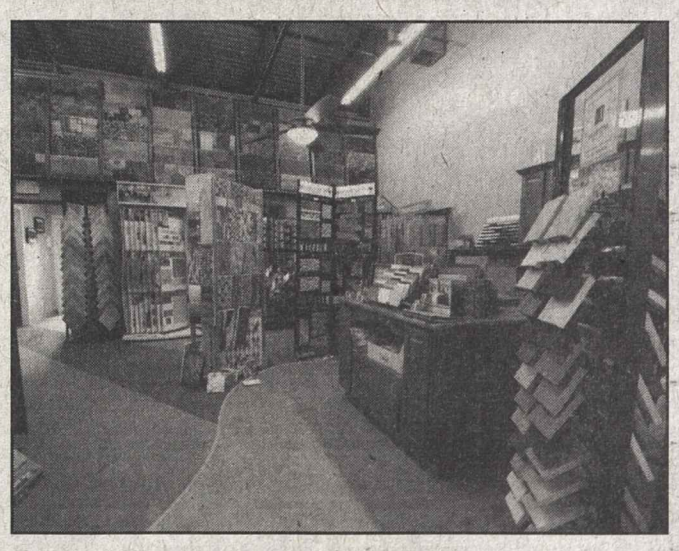

We are a company that specialized in Affordable Custom Design, for both businesses and the home owner, with a large selection of Carpet, Wood, Marble, Granite, Ceramic Tile, Window Treatments with more services available.

by Paul Feely

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

What city has had teams in the WFL, USFL, WLAF, CFL and XFL but has never had a team in the NFL?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•A mixed bag and a seventh place finish for UMass Lowell men at the America East Conference Outdoor Track and Field Championships, at the Frank H. Livak Track, in Burlington, Vt.

"We thought we could do a little bit better," said UMass Lowell Head Coach Gary Gardner. "We left a lot of points hanging; it's a learning experience. America East is deeper than we are and that's costs you."

The UMass Lowell men finished seventh in the team standings with 55 points. The University of Albany won the Team Championship with 208 points. The University of Maryland Baltimore County was second, Maine finished third.

Senior Keith Lewis (Nashua, N. H.) had a solid and rather busy day. Lewis scored point in four different events. He grabbed fourth place in the 400 meters with a time of 49.24-seconds. Lewis also finished sixth in the High Jump clearing the bar 6-feet 4¼-inches.

Lewis' day was not done; he was part of the 4 x 400 meter relay team that earned a third place finish. The group of Lewis, freshman Nick Powers (Albany, N. Y.), JUNIOR RICHARD KIRBY (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) and senior Tunde Ogunleye (Fitchburg, Mass.) hit the finish line in a time of 3-minutes 18.55-seconds.

The 4 x 100 meter relay team also included Lewis and also earned points. The team of Ogunleye, Powers, sophomore Matt Taylor (Attleboro, Mass.) and Lewis finished fourth with a time of 42.45-seconds.

Ogunleye also earned points with a seventh place finish in the 400 meters. He circled the track in a time of 49.94.

Two River Hawks scored in the 400 meter hurdles. JUNIOR RICHARD KIRBY (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) finished fourth in a time of 54.07, and SENIOR CAMERON MITCHELL (WAKEFIELD, MASS.) took seventh in a time 55.07.

UMass Lowell also had entrants score points in the shot put. FRESHMAN JOHN FIORELLO (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) finished sixth with a throw of 49-feet 4½-inches. Senior Devin O'Neill (Braintree, Mass.) finished eighth with a throw of 45-feet 10½-inches.

•Need some help with the trivia question? It's down south.

•Cross Country and outdoor track & field standout Liz Leonardi, along with football all-conference and ALL-REGIONAL HONOREE JOHN MORIARTY, were named as the 2013-14 Massachusetts Maritime Alumni Athletes of the Year on Wednesday evening as the Buccaneer Class of 2014 was honored at the Department of Athletics' Senior Student-Athlete Awards Banquet at the Bay State Conference Center on campus.

MORIARTY, A NATIVE OF WILMINGTON, MASS. and a graduate of Wilmington High School, earned all-MASCAC, all-New England and all-regional accolades after anchoring the Buccaneers' record-setting offensive line last fall, as he played in all but 10 of a possible 876 snaps in 2013. Moriarty, who sports a 3.858 GPA as a Facilities Engineering major, became the third Capital One Academic All-America in school history with his selection to the second team national squad last December, and he was a semifinalist for the National Football Foundation's William V. Campbell Trophy, widely considered as the "Academic Heisman".

•MANNY CABRAL, A 2010 GRADUATE OF TEWKSBURY HIGH, had a pair of big games for the Daniel Webster College Baseball team recently. The senior catcher went 2-for-4 with two runs scored in an 18-4 Eagles win over Southern Vermont. This followed a 1-for-3 effort in a 5-2 win over Newbury College in a game where he also scored two runs. Cabral has raised his average to .254 on the season.

•RIVIER COLLEGE SOPHOMORE PITCHER JONATHAN CHOTKOWKSI was the hard luck loser for the Raiders in a 2-1 loss to Johnson and Wales recently. THE 2012 TEWKSBURY HIGH GRADUATE pitched seven strong innings, allowing six hits and two earned runs, while striking out three and walking just one. Chotkowski now sports a 2.57 ERA on the season.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Birmingham, Alabama.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@comcast.net, or mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports. P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200.

Tropical Chicken Salad

Betty Crocker's Diabetes Cookbook shares a recipe! Good-bye boring chicken. Welcome the tropics with a low-fat chicken salad..

Directions

1. Place chicken in heavy-duty resealable food-storage plastic bag. Sprinkle seasoning blend over chicken; seal bag and shake until chicken is evenly coated.

2. In 10-inch nonstick skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Add chicken; cook 7 to 10 minutes, stirring frequently, until no longer pink in center. Remove chicken from skillet; drain on paper towels.

3. In large bowl, toss salad greens, mango, onion and bell pepper; divide among 4 plates. Top with chicken. Drizzle with vinaigrette.

EXPERT TIPS

Loaded with mango and bell pepper, this salad is a tasty source of vitamins A and C. Vitamin A is vital for proper eyesight and healthy hair and skin; vitamin C helps promote healthy gums, blood vessels, bones and teeth. Add a crusty roll and a glass of milk for a total of 3 Carbohydrate Choices. If your meal plan allows, select a small cookie for dessert. Cook and drain the chicken, and chop the mango and veggies up to one day before serving. Then cover and refrigerate until you're ready to assemble the salad.

Ingredients

Prep Time 15 minutes

Total Time 25 minutes

Serves 4

1 lb boneless skinless chicken breasts, cut into 1/2-inch strips

2 ntablespoons blackened seasoning blend

1 tablespoon canola or vegetable oil

1 bag (5 oz) mixed baby salad greens (4 cups)

1 medium mango, peeled, pitted and diced (1 cup)

1/2 medium red onion, sliced (3/4 cup)

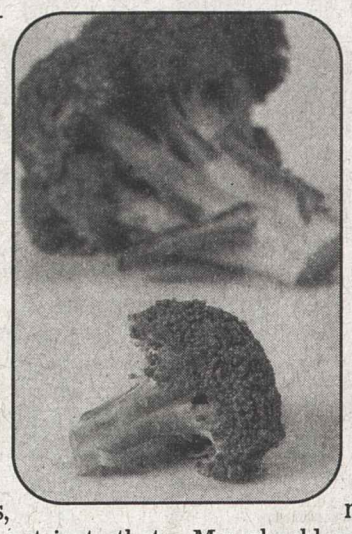

1 small red bell pepper, chopped (1/2 cup)

2/3 cup raspberry vinaigrette

Foods to supplement men's workouts

Diet and exercise go hand-in-hand for adults looking to reduce their risk for heart disease and cancer. A great workout routine is made even better by a healthy diet, and a healthy diet is even more effective when paired with an active lifestyle. While that's certainly not revelatory, men and women might be surprised to learn they have different nutritional needs, so a diet that might satisfy women's needs will not necessarily do the same for men.

When tailoring their diets, men should be sure to include nutrients that prevent prostate cancer and help them maintain muscle mass. The right nutrients also can help men boost their immune systems, prevent bone loss and strengthen their cardiovascular systems. While many foods provide nutritional benefits to both men and women, the following are some foods that can be especially beneficial to men.

* Bananas: Rich in potassium, bananas can aid in protein metabolism, boost the immune system, help with the formation of red blood cells and help the nervous system operate at optimal capacity. Bananas are a great source of vitamin B-6, and because they're so easily portable, bananas make a great midday snack or preworkout bite to eat on your way to the gym. In addition to providing ample potassium, bananas also are rich in magnesium, and diets rich in both potassium and magnesium can reduce a person's risk of stroke. Though women suffer more strokes each year than men, the National Stroke Association notes that is likely because women live longer than men and stroke typically occurs at older ages. Stroke incidence is higher in men than women at younger ages, so men, especially those with a family history of stroke, should include bananas in their diet.

* Broccoli: Broccoli can help men reduce their risk of heart disease and cancer, the No. 1 and No. 2 killers, respectively, of men 35 and older. Broccoli is a great source of a phytochemical known as sulforaphane, which can help men reduce their risk for both prostate and colon cancer. Broccoli also may help men lower their levels of homocysteine, an amino acid linked to an increased risk of stroke.

* Soybeans: Soybeans can be an integral part of a diet that is low in saturated fat and cholesterol, and such diets can help men reduce their risk of heart disease. In addition, soybeans contain a substantial amount of isoflavones, which promote a healthy prostate and lower men's risk of prostate cancer. Men should consider soy products such as soy nuts, soy milk and soy cheese to increase the nutritional value of their diets.

* Oysters: Oysters are widely considered a delicacy, but few may know that oysters also make for a healthy addition to a nutritious diet. That's because just a few oysters per day can deliver the recommended daily intake of zinc, a powerful antioxidant that research has shown can protect men against the kind of cell damage that leads to prostate cancer. Men may also experience improved sexual function by including more zinc in their diets, as research has shown that zinc can help improve sperm counts.

* Whole grains: Whole grains are rich in fiber, vitamins and minerals, which can help men improve heart health, build muscle and maintain a healthy weight. Whole grains that are rich in soluble fiber, such as oatmeal, are strong sources of B vitamins that help men lower their low-density lipoprotein, often referred to as "bad" cholesterol. Whole grain products that contain at least three to five grams of fiber per serving can pack a powerful punch for men looking to improve the nutritional value of their diets.

Men and women benefit differently from various nutrients, vitamins and minerals, and men might be surprised to learn just how healthy certain easily prepared foods can be.

paned windows.

Contemporary amenities are plentiful in the large kitchen, another bright space. The nook is windowed on two sides, and a garden window is in front of the sink. Counter and storage space is augmented by a central work island, a roomy walk-in pantry, and a counter extension that could serve as an eating bar. Utilities are tucked into a pass-through space with patio access, and a small powder room is just across the great room.

Luxuries in the Wyndmere's master suite include a big walk-in closet and a private bathroom with twin vanities, spa tub, oversized shower and separately enclosed water closet. This plan is unique in that every bedroom has its own bathroom. Each of the upstairs bedrooms also has a deep dormer.

A detached garage with space for a small office is out of sight behind the house.

How to repair dead grass

A patch of dead grass on an otherwise lush lawn can be a frustrating eyesore for homeowners. Whether lawn care is your passion or just something you do to maintain the value of your home, dead grass can be exasperating.

But as unsightly as dead grass can be, addressing it and restoring the dead patches can be somewhat simple. Before you can restore grass, however, you must first identify the source of the problem. Grass often dies because of urine damage, which is typically characterized by a dead spot surrounded by otherwise green grass. Grub infestation might be at fault when dead grass appears, and such an infestation often produces patches of light brown grass that are scattered throughout the lawn. It's also possible that dead grass is a result of human error. If your lawn was overfertilized, then patches of gray-green grass may appear. Fungal disease is another common culprit behind dead grass, and such disease can manifest itself in different ways. Once you have identified why the grass is dead, which may require the help of a professional, then you can begin to treat your lawn.

Urine damage

Urine damage is often limited to a particular area of the grass where your family pet routinely relieves itself. Once a particular patch of grass has worn down, the pet may move on to another spot. But if you quickly notice a dead spot due to urine damage, you can train the animal to urinate elsewhere, limiting the damage it causes. When repairing the grass, dig a hole that's roughly four inches deep and fill it with fresh soil until it's level with the soil surrounding the dead patch. Then you can sprinkle seed on top of the freshly laid soil and water the spot.Grass should grow in and stay green so long as you prevent further urine damage.

Insect damage

Addressing dead spots caused by insect damage can be a little more complicated, and some homeowners may prefer to hire a professional. If you want to handle the problem on your own, apply pesticide to the affected areas so the insects behind the problem are killed. Once the insects are no more, cut the grass, raking the affected area to remove the dead grass and any additional debris. Scatter grass seed over the affected areas and then apply an appropriate fertilizer and water immediately. Professionals may know just the right fertilizer for your lawn, so even if you want to go it alone, visit a local lawn care center to ask for advice about addressing your problem.

Expo From S-1

only 150 people so the audience can be close and personal with the celebrities and panelists. Panels and Screenings will be announced in advance on the website.

Attendees can win prizes and cash in contests at the Pop Culture Expo. There will be costume contests with cash and show money prizes including children's, teens and adult categories.

Pop Culture Expo is proud to announce a new attraction, the Create-A-New-Superhero contest, where contestants compete in costumes for cash prizes, but the back story they create is the most important part of winning. The audience will vote for the winners.

Game Underground of Framingham will be organizing and operating the Video Game Area with contests in fighting and racing games with cash prizes and "show money" prizes which can be spent with the vendors on the show floor. Top experts from around the country will compete in front of a live audience and online audience.

Since the event does not take place at a hotel, organizers have more room for Cosplay, Contests, Vendors and Fun.

There is ample free parking at the venue with shuttles taking people back and forth from the far ends of the lots. There will also be shuttles running between the host hotel, the Anderson Regional Transit Center in Woburn and the Shriners throughout the weekend.

Other fan and conventioneer activities will take place at the event's host hotel, the Crown Plaza in Woburn, including a Saturday, May 24 dinner with the stars followed by a Pop Culture Party with an Adult Costume Contest with prizes, screening of Spike & Mike's Sick & Twisted Festival of Animation and live entertainment by surf rockers Tsunami of Sound. Saturday and Sunday also provide opportunities for a Breakfast with the Stars before the opening of the Expo.

An admission fee of $15 per day, or $25 prepaid online for a two-day pass, is all it takes for collectors to shop the vendors' booths along with families, fans, nerds, geeks and photographers who just want to come to the event to dress up in costumes, play video games or to see and be seen.

The schedule of events will be posted online and continuously updated at www.PopCultureExpo.com.

This Week's Sampler: Wyndmere

THIS COUNTRY HOME PLAN IS A SPACIOUS THREE-BEDROOM home with detached garage and office. The central great room has a fireplace flanked by French doors to patio. Three gabled dormers brighten entry and expand both upper bedrooms.

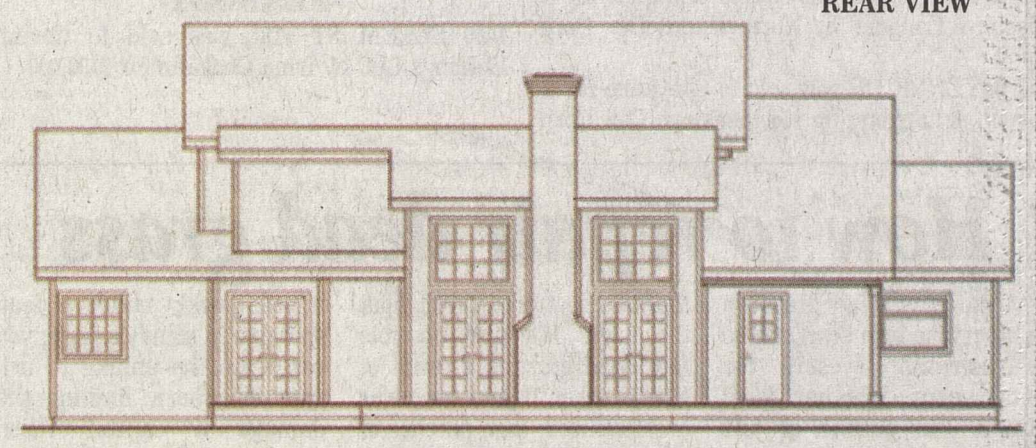

Wyndmere features informal open spaces

Its wide front porch and wealth of street-facing windows give a look of friendliness to the Wyndmere, a three bedroom, four-bath home with a large patio. In keeping with a nationwide trend, this plan has no formal living room. The freed-up space is devoted to informal living areas, such as the spacious great room at its core.

The great room is bright and totally open. Light spills in through windows that fill most of the front and back walls. The French doors that flank the fireplace at the rear provide plenty of airflow, as well as direct access to the patio. Natural light, somewhat softened by the covered front porch, washes into the dining room through nostalgic multi-
